Isolated Astronauts Head For Honolulu

ABOARD USS HORNET (AP) — Apollo 11's isolated astronauts cruised toward landfall in Hawaii today and a flight to Houston where they face 16 days additional quarantine against possible moon bugs.

They will be lodged in the same building where scientists today open the boxes of rocks that Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. collected on the moon Sunday.

The two boxes were flown to Houston Friday, weighted, sterilized and kept overnight in a vacuum chamber. Their opening would give geologists and scientists their first look at material from another celestial body.

The boxes were to be opened in glass vacuum chambers and handled with mechanical devices by men reaching through glove-ports.

Armstrong, Aldrin and Michael Collins remained in their silver quarantine van as the Hornet churned northeastward toward a 2 p.m. EDT arrival in Honolulu, where Gov. John Burns and thousands of Hawaiians planned to greet the heroes who flew man's first moon-landing mission.

The van will be moved by truck to Hickam Air Force Base for the flight by C141 transport to Ellington AFB near Houston. The arrival was scheduled for 2:35 a.m. Sunday.

Dr. William Carpenter, the space agency doctor in the van with the astronauts, reported Friday that Armstrong's slight ear infection had disappeared, and said all three men were in excellent condition.

"We are all through with taking samples and tests—from now on there will be just one brief examination a day until we get to Houston," Carpenter said.

Sen. Kennedy's Political Future Put Before Public

Nation Offers Divided Opinion On His Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — A divided public offered no clear vote of confidence nationally today for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy. The response was often rough and muddled with doubt.

Democratic politicians generally closed ranks around the senator after his television explanation of the automobile accident which took the life of Mary Jo Kopechne. Republicans tended to reserve comment.

The people of Massachusetts, target of Kennedy's appeal for advice as to whether he should resign, poured out their support for their senator. The national reaction was more critical.

Kansas City secretary Mary Collier said, "how glibly do they think people are? The story just doesn't add up. I wouldn't vote for anyone like that."

Fabrication

In Atlanta, Harry Brown said, "I had no opinion on the matter until I heard him say tonight he swam that channel. Now I realize that it is a complete fabrication."

Former Texas Gov. John Connally, who was with John F. Kennedy when he was killed, said, "There's no doubt that he will be hurt unless he gives more satisfactory answers. He really gave none of substance tonight."

Majority leader Mike Mansfield said he hopes Kennedy will return to the Senate. "He has my full confidence and support," he said.

South Dakota Sen. George S. McGovern hoped Kennedy "will have the strength to put this tragedy behind him and to continue the brilliant career I believe history has marked for him."

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine added, "I think it was the story of a man of integrity of character, and I would expect the people of Massachusetts to give him full support."

Victim's Mother

The expressions of support ranged from Mary Jo's mother,

Hugall Accused Of Kidnaping

WHITE CLOUD (AP) — An 18-year-old former mental patient has been bound over to Newaygo County Circuit Court on a kidnap charge in connection with the abduction of a 12-year-old Fremont girl.

Leonard Hugall waived examination at arraignment Friday in District Court and was returned to the Newaygo County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bond. He was ordered to appear in court July 30 to face the charge.

Hugall is accused of kidnaping Cindy Hayward in Fremont last Saturday. The girl was rescued and Hugall was arrested Wednesday in Marquette.

Nixon Sounds Out On Self-Help Theme

MANILA (AP) — President Nixon launched his effort to persuade Asian leaders toward greater self-help efforts today in talks with President Ferdinand E. Marcos in the presidential palace. Outside, anti-American demonstrators burned a U.S. flag.

While half a million Filipinos gave Nixon a warm and friendly welcome on his arrival from Guam, a relatively small band of youths outside the palace chanted "Yankee go home." They threw stones and placards over the main gate and scuffled with police.

Nixon sounded the Asian self-help theme publicly on his arrival at Manila airport on the first leg of his 'round the world tour. He departed from his prepared text, however, to pay warm tribute to Marcos and to the warm relations between the United States and the Pacific island nation which was once an American colony.

Applauded

The crowd responded and people applauded Nixon along the more than five-mile motorcade route to the Spanish-style presidential palace where he was to spend the night. The people wanted to express their admiration for the successful U.S. moon landing, the completion of which Nixon had just witnessed.

The two chief executives talked at the palace for nearly two hours—first alone and then with aides, including Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Philippine Foreign Minister Carlos Romulo. Nixon will confer with Marcos again Sunday.

Nixon then took a boat across the river that flows by the palace and went by helicopter to a hotel suite meeting with Sen. Sergio Osmena Jr., who opposes Marcos in this year's presidential elections.

Upon arriving at his first stop on an Asian tour, Nixon declared Asians themselves should take the lead in promoting their defense and economic progress and in achieving peace in the Far East.

"Peace and progress must be shaped and protected primarily by Asian hands," Nixon said at the airport. "The contributions which my country can make to that progress should come as a supplement to Asian energies and in response to Asian leadership."

Shares View

Marcos seemed to share Nixon's views. He agreed there should be no "heavy handed dominance" by the United States, but voiced concern about a "complete pullout of the U.S. from Asia."

Thousands lined the five-mile route from the airport to the presidential palace. Some waved signs that read: "Mr. Nixon: Fly Us to the Moon."

A total of 16,000 security troops were reported deployed along the route from the airport and in the capital to ensure that no possible demonstrations got out of hand.

Before leaving Guam, Nixon told newsmen he recognizes the validity of "Asia for the Asians" sentiment and is determined to assist, but not dictate to, the non-Communist nations on the subcontinent.

Has Questions

But Marcos indicated that he has some questions to ask Nixon about U.S. policy in Asia, particularly the rate of U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam. In comments to newsmen before Nixon's arrival Marcos also said he believes that some kind of American military umbrella will be needed in Southeast Asia for the next "10 or 20 years."

"The danger we face in the Philippines is not external aggression but internal subversion," Marcos said.

Although the Philippines are allied with the United States in the Vietnam war, there has been agitation here against the large U.S. military presence in the islands. Nixon has said the American deployments in the Philippines are under review.

Long an American possession, the Philippines were granted independence in 1946. Nationalist

Will Resign If Voters Have Lost Confidence

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy has put his fabled political future on the line before a divided public after a pretty secretary's death that left haunting questions still unanswered today.

Kennedy announced Friday night he may resign from the U.S. Senate if Massachusetts voters have lost confidence in him because of the car accident which killed his young blonde passenger on a lonely island road a week ago.

The first swelling tide of telegrams and telephone calls in his home state ran strongly in support of the senator. But across the nation, the doubts lingered.

"I still trust him. But I don't think a lot of people do," said a college student in Pittsburgh.

Kennedy, in a national television appearance, said there is "no truth whatever" to ugly rumors of immoral conduct that shadow the accident. "Nor was I driving under the influence of liquor," he added.

Brush With Death

Kennedy told a dramatic story of a night of tragedy and horror in which he twice brushed against the very brink of death, of nearly becoming the third brother to die in sudden calamity while at a pinnacle of American political power.

And in those terrible moments, he said, he questioned "whether some awful curse did actually hang over all the Kennedys."

The 37-year-old senator told of the water rushing into his lungs as he fought to escape his sunken car after it plunged off a bridge into an estuary. And he said he nearly drowned again as he swam across a channel from the island to the village where he had been staying.

This was the first explanation of how Kennedy got off the island in the nine hours between the accident and the time he walked into the police station in Edgartown to report the death. And the swim seemed to raise more new questions instead of quieting old ones.

Pleads Guilty

Kennedy appeared on national television on the same day he pleaded guilty in court to leaving the scene of an accident. A two-month sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for one year.

The senator said his failure to report the accident immediately was "indefensible." He said he was confused, and totally tired. He indicated he still did not remember all that happened in the nine-hour period.

In Berkeley Heights, N.J., the mother of the victim, Mrs. Joseph Kopechne, came out onto a neighbor's front porch after the broadcast to say in a halting voice "I am satisfied with the senator's statement—and do hope he decides to stay in the Senate."

Kennedy's fellow Democrats hailed the speech. Republicans were generally silent.

Front Runner

Until the accident, Kennedy, the No. 2 Democrat in the Senate as assistant majority leader, had been regarded as a front-runner for the 1972 nomination for the presidency—the prize that brought his two brothers to violent death.

Kennedy's speech was his first explanation beyond a brief statement to police last Saturday.

It still left unanswered these key questions:

—Why Kennedy was on the dirt road leading to the narrow wooden bridge where his car plunged into a salt-water inlet? The senator told police he made a wrong turn driving Miss Kopechne to the island ferry after a reunion party. At a T-intersection, the only paved road on the island turns left toward the ferry and is marked with an arrow; the dirt road goes right. In the television speech, he made no mention at all of the turn.

Swam Channel

—What happened when he plunged into the water to swim from the island to Edgartown? Kennedy said two friends, Joseph Gargan and Paul Markham, had helped him dive for Miss Kopechne after the accident. He said he was confused

Smale Advanced To Controller

Appointment of Howard D. Smale, 32, city administrative assistant, to the position of city controller was announced Friday by City Manager George Harvey.

Smale succeeds Milton Embs, who resigned recently.

Harvey said Smale will assume his new duties immediately, but will continue to serve as administrative assistant until a successor is named.

The controller serves in the capacity of finance director for the city.

Born in Chicago, Smale attended school at Menomonie, Wis., and graduated in June, 1955. He served four years in the U. S. Air Force.

Board, Teachers Ratify Contract At Stephenson

STEPHENSON—The Board of Education of the Stephenson Area Public School District and the Stephenson Education Association have ratified a Master Agreement for the 1969-70 school year.

The new agreement provides for a basic salary of $6,500 for a new teacher with a bachelor's degree and without previous experience. Increments of $227 are provided for each year of experience up to a maximum of 12 years. Top base salary for a teacher with a bachelor's degree will be $9,224. Masters degree teachers will have a base of $6,954 and a top of $9,678.

The agreement includes a schedule of compensation for some extra-curricular assignments of teachers.

The health insurance clause of the agreement provides payment of $12 per month per teacher.

Woman Umpire To Work Game

NEW YORK (AP) — A historic milestone for baseball and Mrs. Bernice Gera will be reached next Friday.

That night the 37-year-old Long Island housewife from Jackson Heights will become the first woman umpire in organized baseball. She will work the game at Auburn, N.Y., between the Auburn Twins and the Corning Royals in the Class A New York-Pennsylvania League.

William J. Graney, general manager of the Auburn team, said Mrs. Gera is to work at first base and take her regular turn behind home plate.

Mrs. Gera said Friday she had received notice of her appointment as an umpire in the NY-P circuit from Vincent McNamara of Buffalo, president of the league. It ended her three-year fight with organized baseball to land a job as an umpire.

"I'm thrilled to death," she said. "Now I must go out and prove myself. I am sure some day we will have women umpires in the big leagues and I hope to be the first."

The number of registered vehicles in South West Africa has increased tenfold since 1939 to more than 50,000 at present.

Woman Sails Across Pacific

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — "You just start praying, go below and hope everything holds."

That, said Sharon Sites Adams, is how she rode out seven gales and 50-foot waves in her 31-foot ketch to become the first woman to sail alone across the Pacific Ocean.

Smiling and waving, the 39-year-old Mar Vista, Calif., housewife stood at the stern of her Sea Sharp 11 Friday as it rode across San Diego Harbor into a noisy civic welcome.

Mayor Frank Curran gave Sharon a key to the city and said: "There aren't too many words to describe what you have done, but guts is one of them."

There were plaques and praises from other civic officials and an armload of carnations from Miss San Diego, Patricia Heighon.

In 74 days, 17 hours and 15 minutes at sea after leaving Yokohama last May 12, she had completed the longest solo voyage ever attempted by any woman.

At dockside she was reunited with her instructor-husband, Al Adams, 54, whom she helps operate a sailing school at Marina Del Rey.

Adams had escorted her down the coast after spotting a hot-pink stripe on her boat's foresail through the fog off Santa Barbara last Tuesday morning.

Would she like to go on another such Odyssey?

"There's still the Atlantic," she said.

Youths Parade Against U.S.

MANILA (AP) — Youths demonstrating against the U.S. presence in South Vietnam paraded today outside the presidential palace where President Nixon was meeting with Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos.

At the same time another group of about 200 anti-American demonstrators appeared in front of the U.S. embassy on the other side of town.

Both groups were orderly. Their placards said such things as, "Get Out of Vietnam," "Nixon Go Home," and "U.S. Marines—Killers of Vietnamese Children."

Speakers at the embassy demonstration stressed nationalism and urged the U.S. to withdraw military bases from the Philippines. There were shouts of "down with imperialism" from the crowd.

About 100 riot police stood close to the demonstrators. Two firetrucks were nearby ready to use their water hoses if the demonstrators became unruly.

Topless Dancer Contesting Law

DETROIT (AP) — A topless go-go dancer says her $300 fine for indecent exposure is a violation of the First Amendment of the Constitution, which guarantees freedom of speech.

Dancing topless is a form of expression, according to Tyra Lea LaRue, a 21-year-old blonde who was found guilty of appearing at a Detroit bar without the pasties required under police regulations.

"We're going to fight this all the way to the Supreme Court if we have to," said Tyra Lea, who is 5-foot-10 and weighs 144 pounds. She claims measurements of 41-28-42.

The dancer was arrested last May 13 at the Sip-N-Chat Cocktail Lounge on the city's North-west Side. The bar owner, Theodore Manolakas, was fined $200 for allowing her to dance topless.

"I went topless," explained Tyra Lea, "because they charge you with indecent exposure, and I wanted to test this. I don't think it's indecent."

"You can cut circles out of transparent nylon stockings and glue them on with transparent glue, and this is legal."

Manolakas, her boss, said he asked Tyra Lea to dance topless to test the law's constitutionality.

"The burlesque houses downtown are topless and, as far as we are concerned, if they can do it we can do it," he said.

"There should be no distinction between a bar and a burlesque house."

The two, fined by Traffic Court Referee John Carney, have appealed to Traffic Judge Andrew Wood and demanded a jury trial.

Carney contends that the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that whether acts are considered to be decent or indecent depends on prevailing standards in a community.

"I don't think," he said, "the majority of people in Detroit approve of girls going topless in bars."

Five Injured By Falling Limb
JACKSON (AP)—Four young children and a young mother were injured seriously Friday when a 1,000-pound tree limb fell and crashed into their car in Summit Township just south of Jackson.

Seriously injured were Mrs. Judith Ann Weaschle, 30, and her four-year-old daughter, Laura. Both were taken to University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Also injured were Scott Weaschle, 8, and Michael Briggs, 8, who were admitted to Foote Hospital in Jackson. Treated and released was Karen Weaschle, 6.

Witnesses said the limb fell and peeled off the top of the compact car like a sardine can.

Flat Rock Schools Ask Transfer Of Mill Land

The Board of Education of the Flat Rock Consolidated Schools has unanimously adopted a resolution calling for the transfer to the Flat Rock School District of several thousand acres of territory now a part of the Escanaba Area School District.

A copy of the resolution has been delivered to the Board of Education of the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District whose approval is necessary before such a transfer will take effect.

Situated within the territory sought by the Flat Rock District is the Escanaba Paper Co. mill, including those sites where both present and future facilities are located.

Harold Chenier, President of the Flat Rock School Board explained that the action taken by the Board was in response to recent efforts by the Board of Education of the Escanaba Area Public Schools to acquire from the Flat Rock District the Lake Bluff Estates, a site consisting of more than 1,000 acres presently being developed for luxury housing, a golf course and country club and other residential and recreational facilities.

"The Escanaba District has been working very quietly with the corporation that is developing Lake Bluff Estates to take from the Flat Rock District what represents to us a necessary and vital source of future support for our schools," Chenier said.

"We feel, and the people of our district feel, that if we are to lose this future resource for the education of our children, we should receive something in return."

"We would be willing to accept the territory that we have resolved to have transferred to us. We do not wish to hinder the education of any child in the Escanaba District; but we feel that it is grossly unfair of the Escanaba Schools to erode the tax base upon which our children depend, and will depend for their education."

"We think that it is more than unfair for the promoters of the Lake Bluff Estates to seek to enhance their fortunes by this kind of maneuver."

The Flat Rock Board of Education will hold a public meeting at 7:30 on Monday at the Flat Rock School to explore further the steps to be taken to resist the efforts of the Escanaba Area Public Schools and to acquire the property they seek in exchange.

The Escanaba Paper Co. division of Mead Corp. is the largest single taxpayer in the Escanaba Area school district and taxes paid on its large valuation provide the Area School district with a major share of local tax revenue.

Hanoi Praises Apollo Flight

HONG KONG (AP) — North Vietnam today praised the "excellent achievement of the United States by landing a man on the moon"—but said it had been made possible only by earlier Soviet space triumphs.

Radio Hanoi also attacked "the Nixon reactionary, imperialistic, and aggressively bellicose clique for abusing the Apollo 11 scientific and technological achievement by using it for propaganda and as a military threat to other nations."

The Vietnamese language broadcast said, "The people of the world will not be duped by Nixon beginning a threatening and boastful trip around the world the minute the Apollo moon men safely returned to earth."

Radio Hanoi said the "real, true space pioneers—the great heroes who led the way—were those Soviet Union scientists who put the first earth satellite into orbit Oct. 4, 1957, and put (Russian cosmonaut) Yuri Gagarin into space April 12, 1961."

"Thus," the broadcast continued, "the whole world recognizes that it was the great socialist country that led the way for man into space and not the United States."

U.S., Viet Forces Maul Red Units

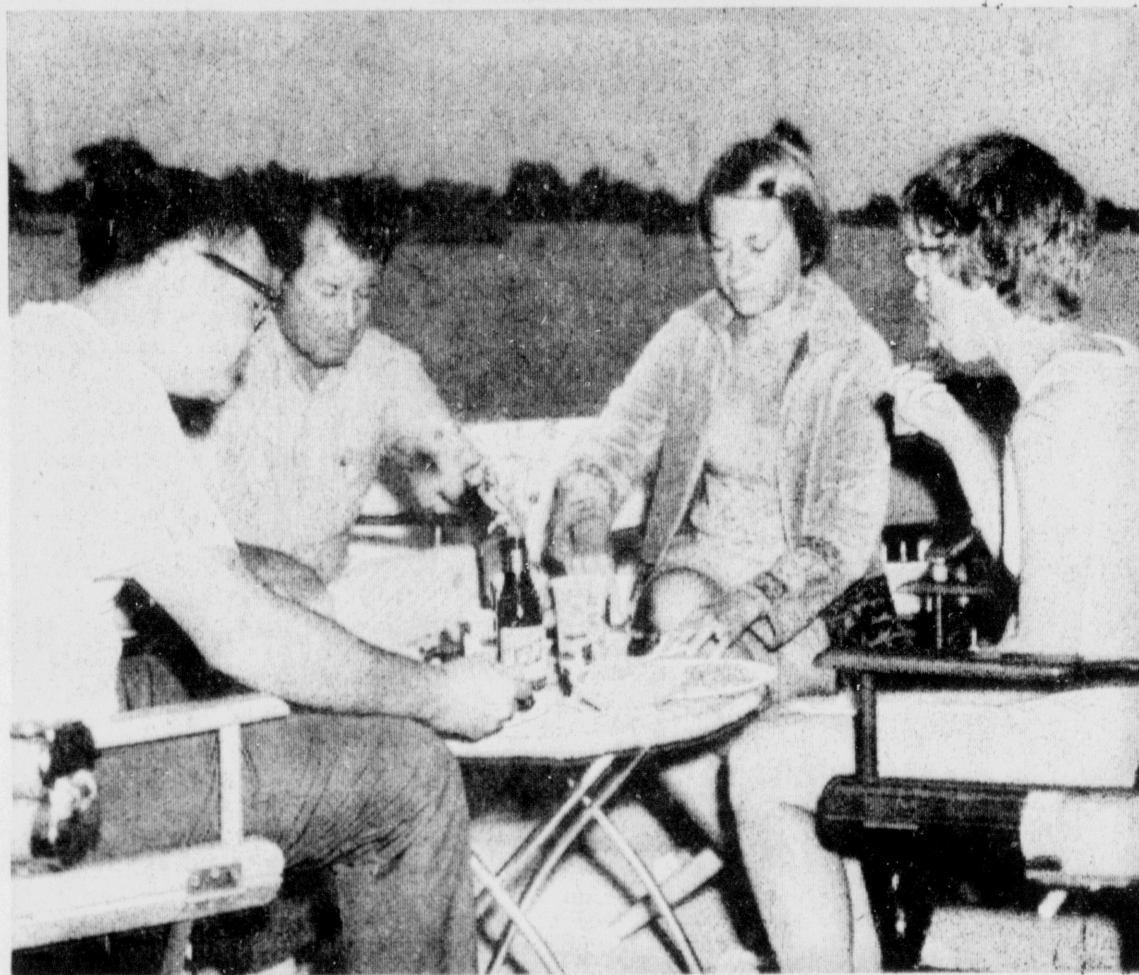

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese forces maul Communist ground units in scattered clashes over the past two days but the general battlefield lull, now in its sixth week, continued today.

Military spokesmen said 115 enemy soldiers had been killed in a series of small fights and that the bodies of 28 slain in earlier skirmishes had been found. But a U.S. spokesman said the figures reflected no upsurge in the lull, which began June 18.

"In fact," he said, "these incidents are very typical of actions now. We are inflicting relatively high casualties without taking many of our own."

The U.S. Command reported 12 enemy shellings in the 24-hour period that ended at 8 a.m. Saturday, about average for recent days. Four were against U.S. installations but there were no American casualties, the command said.

Military and civilian officials went ahead today with preparations for a visit by President Nixon. White House spokesmen have said Nixon has "no plans" to stop in the war zone during his current world tour, but ob-

State Reaction To Teddy Mixed

By The Associated Press
Michigan political figures and men in the street expressed mixed reactions Friday to Sen. Edward Kennedy's request that the people of Massachusetts tell him if they want him to remain in the Senate.

Democratic officials generally supported Kennedy. "I thought Kennedy's speech was heartfelt and persuasive," said Senate Majority Leader Sander Levin (D-Berkley). "His request for a reaction from the people was sincere and not just a technique. I think he'd really like to find out himself."

Levin thought it was too early to assess what effect last week's accident, in which a young woman was killed, might have on Kennedy's prospects for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination.

Premature
"It is totally premature to judge his chances in the 1972 presidential contest," Levin said. That should be secondary now to thought about the tragedy he has just faced."

"Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said, 'While I can't counsel him as a Massachusetts constituent, as a friend and admiring colleague I hope Ted Kennedy will stay in the Senate and in public service. I thought he was magnificent.'"

Gov. William Milliken declined comment in the speech. "The senator's presentation was to the people of Massachusetts and it is for them to judge," the Republican governor said.

Other Republican leaders could not be reached for comment.

The man in the street was generally willing to give Kennedy another chance.

"A guy ought to be able to make a mistake, even a Kennedy," said Mike O'Donnell, interviewed in a downtown Detroit bar. "Everybody else makes mistakes."

Sorry Thing
"In my opinion, Kennedy was probably drinking and he made a mistake," O'Donnell added. "But I still don't know anybody who could lead the country better than he could."

Another patron of the bar, Ron Adamo, was somewhat more critical of Kennedy.

"I think the man got off very lightly," said Adamo of Kennedy's two-month suspended sentence on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

"It's a sorry thing, a very sorry thing," he added. "But he ought to be able to take the punishment."

"I think he was sincere and the explanation he gave was very reasonable," said Bob Battemente of Detroit of Kennedy's speech.

"I think there are too many people who are jealous of him," he said.

Two Survive Jetliner Crash

MARSEILLES, France (AP) — An Air Algerie Caravelle jetliner, carrying 30 European oilmen and a crew of six, crashed today in southern Algeria, an airline spokesman announced. He said two crew members were believed to have survived.

Most of the passengers on board were said to be French. The Caravelle went down near Hassi Messaoud, the spokesman said. The plane, chartered by the French charter service Comarset, had picked up 16 passengers at Paris' Orly Airport and then another group at Mar-

Arts, Crafts Program Begins In Trenary

The Summer Arts and Crafts Program will be conducted at the Trenary Town Hall beginning July 28 with registration for children six to nine years of age.

The second session will begin August 18 for ages 10 to 12. A $2 fee will cover materials for the 10 day program.

Music appreciation will be featured this year with several volunteers assisting the Director, Audrey Wright. Call 446-3335 for information between 1 and 3 p.m. daily.

New U.P. Project To Help Education Of Handicapped

A major Upper Peninsula Special Education Project was announced today for the training of school district teams in education of the handicapped in regular classrooms. The project is sponsored by Michigan State University, under provisions of the U.S. Office of Education.

Expected to involve 75 U.P. school personnel and board members, the program is designed to initiate motivation, and develop understanding and practical approaches to facilitate education for the handicapped. It will also help to develop effective training methods for regular school personnel and administration in furthering educational opportunities for the handicapped.

Beginning this October and extending through next summer, the project will be guided by an advisory committee, composed of School Superintendents Ed Wuehle of Manistique, Henry Bothwell of Marquette, Luther Barrett of Escanaba, William Poppink of Sault Ste. Marie, along with Robert E. Carter of Northern Michigan University, Intermediate Superintendents Frank Mead of Marquette, Walter McIntock of Gladstone, and Special Education Consultant Calvin Soderberg of the Dickinson-Iron Intermediate District.

Project director will be Dr. Charles V. Mange, director of special education, MSU, East Lansing, and associate director will be Dr. Richard Featherstone, East Lansing, chairman of MSU's Administration and Higher Education Department.

Both Mange and Featherstone, along with MSU's Regional Continuing Education

Director James W. Gooch of Marquette, will serve as consultants to the advisory committee.

Weekend Workshops
Project elements include an externship program involving nine weekend workshops during the school year, 1970 summer workshop sessions for administrators, board members and teachers, special consultant services to participating districts, services from the MSU Instructional Materials Center for Handicapped Children and Youth and in-service education for participating districts.

The nine monthly weekend sessions will begin in October and extend through the 1970 spring term. The group will meet Saturday noon through Sunday noon, in conjunction with another MSU graduate education workshop for U.P. school administrators.

Participating administrators will be involved in a two-week follow-up workshop next summer while a five-week workshop is scheduled for teachers. Both summer workshops will be an extension of the experiences and discussions during the fall, winter and spring extern meetings.

May Earn Credit
The project will also provide resource and consultant services to participating districts to assist with development of approaches to education of individual handicapped students and to education of the major groups of handicapped children in regular classrooms.

Enrollees may earn a maximum of six term hours of graduate credit while participating in nine weekend workshops. Teachers will earn six additional term hours of graduate credit during the 1970 summer and administrators will earn three.

Stipend and dependency allowance will be paid to all participants as follows: $30 for each two-day session with an additional $6 for each dependent; Summer Workshops: $70 per week plus $15 for each dependent.

No Tuition
There will be no charge for tuition but each participant will be responsible for transportation, meals and lodging for the weekend sessions. Six of the workshops are scheduled for the Manistique Motel near Manistique and three additional sessions are scheduled for the Pine Mountain Ski Lodge near Iron Mountain.

Applicants must be teachers, board members, principals, superintendents or other administrative employees of a school system or a professional employee of a community agency dealing with handicapped children. Participants will be selected as members of an intermediate or local district team which must include at least one teacher and at least one administrator. Teams are expected to range in size from two to five.

Application materials and further information are available through Dr. Mange's office, College of Education, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan, or by contacting Mr. Gooch at the MSU Regional Continuing Education Center, 500 W. Kaye Ave., Marquette.

A quota of participants has been assigned to each U.P. Intermediate District, based upon student population. Intermediate and local superintendents will work with the advisory committee and the University to suggest participating teams. Final selection of participants will be determined by the University staff.

Youths Arrested For Possession

Four Escanaba area youths were arrested by State Police Friday evening on the Gladstone Bluff and charged with being minors in possession.

Church May Use Credit Cards

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — It may not be long before credit cards are used in churches to replace the old collection plate.

The National Association of Church Business Administrators, which met in Houston this week, discussed the possibilities of using credit cards for church donations.

The association agreed that the idea might be the solution to the decreasing collections noted by major denominations.

The gift of the service station property on the corner of 11th St. and Ludington St., by Standard Oil division of American Oil Co., may provide the City of Escanaba and its downtown business district more, eventually, than a rest stop for shoppers.

For the past several months, a committee of merchants and property owners has been meeting to talk over what might be done about improving the central business area. There have been dozens of suggestions — more parking, creation of a shoppers mall, one-way streets, renovation of store fronts, remodeling of interiors, construction of rear entrances and improvements in access roads to the downtown to name a few — but outside of several businessmen little has been done as yet to get the ball rolling.

The biggest problem, of course, is financial. Interest rates are high and a major improvement project at most stores would require some sort of financing. Even the downtown parking improvements which have been made with city-merchant cost cooperation were slow in coming.

Standard Oil, however, with its gift of the service station corner has made the down payment on downtown progress.

The property is valued at $30,000 or more and without the generous gift by the oil company more than likely it would have sat vacant for a number of years before anyone might have made a move to develop the corner. Before Gordon Sullivan put up the new Photoart Shop last year on the corner of 10th and Ludington the lot sat vacant. There also was a vacant lot at 12th and Ludington until the First National Bank moved ahead with plans for its new building.

By giving the site to the "citizens of Escanaba and Delta County" Standard has opened the door for what could become a greatly-needed haven for shoppers in the downtown area.

Plans for the area haven't as yet been drafted, but it is expected that the former service station building will be used for public rest rooms. It also appears large enough to provide some sort of a lounge or possibly a community nursery where moms could leave the youngsters for a few minutes while shopping.

The concrete driveway area of the station probably will be broken up, topsoil hauled in and grass — an almost unknown element in business areas until recent years — planted. Trees also are a possibility.

Whatever is done will be welcomed.

City Manager George Harvey will propose to the Council at its next meeting that the city lease the property to the Chamber of Commerce for an annual fee of $100 and will urge that the Chamber take immediate steps to undertake the development of the property.

"This is their opportunity to formulate a civic project to upgrade the downtown area in which they can all take considerable pride," he said.

Harvey is right.

A rest station in downtown Escanaba would be a wonderful addition. The Chamber of Commerce might approve a design for the rest area that would be consistent to an overall theme for downtown improvement and completion of the rest area might be step one in the plan.

Once underway, the possibilities are unlimited.

Some day, S. 11th St. might even be closed to extend the park area. And with such a park area in the middle of the shopping district what better spot for outdoor art shows, band or jazz concerts, special attractions.

It would take courage on the part of the Chamber and City Council to consider any major departure from the present, but progress comes with change.

There is no better time to start than now.

Soviet-Directed Piracy

U. S. Foreign Policy should undergo extensive revision as a result of the revelations by a former Czech general concerning the Soviet role in the Pueblo piracy.

Gen. Jan Sejna, senior Communist Party secretary in the Czech Ministry of Defense until he escaped in February 1968, reported in "Reader's Digest" that contrary to official American analysis, the high-seas theft of the Pueblo, an intelligence vessel, was conceived and supported by the Kremlin. The State Department always has proclaimed that the North Koreans captured the ship on their own initiative as part of their pressure on South Korea, that it was an isolated maneuver to embarrass the United States.

Sejna, who often conferred with Soviet military and political leaders before he fled to the West, says Marshal Andrei Grechko, Soviet defense minister, boasted to him five months before the Pueblo was stolen that some such maneuver was planned. Grechko specifically chose the Pacific for the capture in order to challenge American supremacy there.

The Soviet marshal's answer to Czech queries as to possible U. S. retaliation is interesting and revealing. He responded, according to Sejna, that American failure to blockade Hainan, North Vietnam's main port, indicated the U. S. also would lack the nerve to do anything about the projected piracy. Grechko's supposition was correct; there was no American response.

Sejna's claims have the ring of truth about them. It is only reasonable to assume that the North Koreans never would risk any possible confrontation with the U. S. without prior agreement of support from the Soviets. The Czech general's statements are further proof that, when it counts, the Communist bloc acts in concert to further its goal of the destruction of the Free World. It should destroy, too, the illusions that the Kremlin is any less belligerent than Red China or that it will mediate an honorable peace in Southeast Asia where it also subsidizes aggression.

Escanaba On The List:

Growth Centers To Get Great Lakes Plan Help

By JEAN WORTH
Of Panax Newspapers

The Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission has been distributing the few millions made available to it for economic uplift in the region in studies, supplemental grants and other benefactions.

Meanwhile, it has been shaping a program of aid to be used when the big money came along.

(The Upper Great Lakes Region—Northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota—is one of five regions around the country designated for federal aid because of lagging economies. The program started with Appalachia, the big southeastern U. S. area, which has had a billion dollars in aid so far.)

U. P. Is Peripheral

The newest publication of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission is "Growth Centers and Their Potentials in the Upper Great Lakes Region." It is difficult to compress its more than 100 pages into instant knowledge because it meanders through so much economic theory, but in brief it suggests that the country has a central economic furnace and that its heat flows out through growth centers into peripheral areas.

We're in a peripheral area here in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The publication suggests that such areas are in economic difficulties — as though they didn't know it — and it has no revolutionary news ideas for them about how to build economic springboards.

It suggests that "to induce development in lagging or low-income economic regions" developers must contend with the nation's central economic force in the great heartland of industry and the national market.

Because the (U. P.) periphery isn't in the heartland of industry or the national market it lives on the resources (iron, timber, stone, etc.) and the manufactures it sends to the heartland and the national market. (The Central U. P. is its chief manufacturing area and it is influenced by national market access in the rough order of Chicago, Detroit, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Cincinnati.)

Technical Change

The heartland's dependence upon the heartland and strong influences changing their relationship are great migrations of people, like that from the Upper Peninsula to the cities to the south, and major changes in technology, like those which have recently closed the Bristol and Homer-Wauseca mines in the U. P., and the Royal Oak Charcoal Co. plant at Marquette.

The heartland's initial advantages were farming resources and key location in the minerals economy—steel and metal manufacturing. With development, it grew into the civilized center of the national market.

The heartland, say Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission economists, experienced urban-industrial specialization, while the hinterlands found their comparative advantage based on narrow specialization in supply of resources. The process set up a flow of raw materials to the big cities and a flow of finished products outward from them.

Rush To The Sun

Since 1950 the growth of "service industries" has increased the number of "foot-loose" businesses processing consumer goods from manufactured parts, the aircraft, aerospace and defense industries, the research and development firms, and migration of the non-job oriented population of retirees and others to Florida, Arizona and California.

Such changes provided opportunities for economic growth on the outer rim of the nation in places well endowed with amenity resources to serve persons benefitting from the rising level of income. This caused the explosive growth of the South, Southwest and West.

But a fifth of all Americans are reported living in regions of economic distress like the Upper Great Lakes Region, which have been declared eligible for federal area redevelopment assistance.

Distress Signs

Characteristics of these areas include: deterioration of the quality of public services (although their per capita cost has increased), older housing, significantly lower level of educational attainment than that in metropolitan America, rapid and selective outmigration, declining economic base, burden of an aging population, a remaining population frequently short on civic leadership and hope, and low incomes that keep many communities from adapting to changing circumstances in the outside world.

"They can neither grasp the scope of the events that have overtaken them, nor are they capable of responding creatively to the new situations," says the publication. "Therein lie the problems of the Upper Great Lakes Region. Agriculture, mining, timber, railroads and associated manufacturing sectors are generally declining in terms of employment opportunities. Demand for natural-resource-tied outputs continues to grow, but slowly. Employment levels fall."

What's The Remedy?

The Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission was created to do something about this situation. Its strategy at present calls for development through identification of potential growth centers and investment opportunities. It believes that regional growth is induced externally and that effective economic development must be coupled with substantial outmigration of people from the U. P. and the rest of the region to solve many of its problems.

The theory that continued urban-industrial expansion in the major central cities should lead to growth in the smaller communities of the periphery holds small promise for the U. P., the paper suggests. "Even at advanced developmental levels, peripheries such as the Upper Great Lakes Region remain beyond the trickle-down and spread effects of current growth impulses."

No Throughways

More optimistically, the economists see in the next generation a new scale of city living extending far beyond existing metropolitan cores and penetrating deeply into the periphery. But here again the fusion of metropolitan and peripheral spaces is limited to two hours driving time on a modern throughway system (100 miles with present technology) and this deals out the Upper Peninsula, which has no metropolis and no throughways.

The study identifies the Upper Peninsula's potential growth areas as: Ironwood, Houghton-Hancock, Marquette, Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie.

It identifies as recreational resource potentials: Ironwood, Bessemer, Ontonagon, Houghton, Iron River, Iron Mountain, Shakey Lakes, Munising, Sault Ste. Marie and Mackinac Island.

Some of the studies seem to neglect the obvious, like the industrial growth in the Escanaba area, presumably because the large increase in the labor force in Escanaba has resulted in job applications which keep the unemployment statistics high.

There is an indication of the size of the commission's problem in its admission that the Development Districts being created are for building institutions rather than for economic development. More knowledge is needed, it states, before there can even be economic development planning.

Actor Isn't Puppet Asserts Lancaster

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Is an actor a mere puppet?

Not in the opinion of Burt Lancaster, the film star millionaire who started his career as a $3-a-week circus acrobat.

"Some American actors think acting is unmanly," he said. "I felt that way myself for years—that I should be doing something else. I don't now. I've found acting is a way to be myself."

"I don't think of myself as an actor in the traditional, conventional sense. Acting has become to me a way of saying what I want to say."

Lancaster, who once aspired to be an opera singer, has been saying pretty much what he wants to say since the age of 3 when while appearing in a church nativity play, he saw a piece of gum on his shoe and startled the audience by exclaiming, "What the hell is that piece of gum doing there?"

Son of a postal clerk, Burt likes to recall the years when he and five brothers and sisters were reared in an east Harlem walkup railroad flat.

"I came from a family poor in terms of money but not in terms of courage and affection," he said.

"My childhood was a happy one. There was a lot of laughter, joy and love in my family."

Those early years, and later years when he worked around the country in menial jobs ranging from boiler stoker to road gang worker, left Lancaster with a strong sympathy for underdogs—the downtrodden and overlooked people of earth.

"To me life is a commitment," he said. "You have to get involved."

"When whatever talent you have wins you prestige and success—isn't that the American dream?—you can't simply retire to an ivory tower and live there. Your talent owes a responsibility to others. You have to try to help them in some way."

"I always like the advice that Bernard Shaw gave: 'Waste

The bidding:
West 2 Pass North 3 Pass East Pass South 3

Opening lead—ace of spades. This deal occurred in a team of four match.

At the first table, West opened a weak two spade bid and North-South got to four hearts on the bidding shown.

West led the ace of spades, East signaling for a continuation by playing the nine. East hoped his partner had the king or ace of hearts, in which case repeated spade leads would defeat the contract when he (East) later overruffed dummy on the third round of spades.

But things didn't quite work out that way. Declarer ruffed West's queen of spades in dummy, drew trumps, and made the rest of the tricks for a score of 680 points.

Actually, four hearts could have been defeated with perfect defense. West switches to the king of clubs at trick two and continues with the jack. East wins with the ace (whether dummy covers or not) and leads a third round of clubs, thus creating a trump trick for the defense.

At the second table, North-South bid their hands poorly and wound up at three no-trump on this sequence:

West North East South
1 Pass 2 Pass 2 Pass 2 Pass
3 Pass 3 NT

This contract was not a howling success. East led the nine of spades and West went up with the ace, felling North's king.

West shifted to the king of clubs and followed with the jack which North (incorrectly) covered with the queen. This enabled East to cash the rest of his clubs before returning a spade through dummy's jack. By the time the smoke had cleared the defense had taken all the tricks for down nine—900 points.

So the outcome was that one team garnered 25 tricks on the deal, scoring 12 tricks at one table with the North-South cards and 13 tricks at the other with the East-West cards.

youself on the ash heap of humanity. But actually you do something for yourself when you care for others."

'Castle Keep'

Lancaster, who won an Oscar for "Elmer Gantry," likes to make films that carry a powerful social impact. His latest—and 41st—is "Castle Keep," a surrealistic war picture detailing the experiences of a group of GI's during the battle of the Bulge in Belgium.

Some years ago, already laden with honors and loot, Burt thought of quitting the industry, trying a new field. But now, still ruggedly trim at 55, he has shelved that idea.

"All I want to do is to go on as long as I can making films that touch people emotionally and express what I feel about life," he said. "You can't just quit because you are ahead."

Burt and his wife, Norma, a former USO entertainer he met while he was in the Army, were divorced last month. They have five children.

Shutdowns Trim Car Production

DETROIT (AP)—The annual shutdown for model changeover trimmed automobile production this week to 56,516 units, the trade publication Automotive News reported.

Thirteen more Big Four auto plants halted their production of 1969 models this week to tool up for the start of 1970-model output, the trade paper said.

This week's scheduled output of 56,516 was compared with 107,940 last week and 102,686 in the comparable week a year ago. The output brings production for the calendar year to 4,931,421, compared with 5,414,344 for the same span of 1968.

Truck production this week totaled 26,535, compared with 35,870 last week and 24,258 in the corresponding week of 1968. Truck assemblies for the calendar year climbed to 1,112,310, compared with 1,155,758 at the same point in 1968.

Aunt Getting Even With Her Shower

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has arthritis in his right hand. When he meets people they invariably grab his hand and pump away. I have seen him nearly faint from the pain.

How can he let them know he can't shake hands without seeming unfriendly or ungracious? — J's Wife.

Dear Wife: Your husband should quickly grab the other fellow's right hand with his left and say, "Sorry, I've got arthritis in the other one..." No one will be offended.

Dear Ann Landers: I am engaged to be married in the fall. My fiancée's aunt wants to give a huge kitchen and linen shower for me. Her plans are making me sick and I don't know what to do about it.

Yesterday Aunt V. handed me the guest list — about 70 women. At least half the names are of people I have never heard of. She asked if I'd like to add anyone. I told her no, but I'd like to take about 40 names off the list! She yelled, "Every woman on that list owes me something. I've been going to showers for twenty years and this is the only chance I will have to get even. When I tried to tell her gifts don't mean that much to me, she screamed, 'Shut up and don't be a fool. This shower will save you at least $400.'"

My mother refuses to get involved. She says it's between me and Aunt V. Your advice would be appreciated.—Caught in the Switches.

Dear Aunt: Ask your Aunt V. to remove from the guest list the names of the women you don't know. She can "get even" some other way. If she refuses, insist that she cancel the shower. The whole thing smells like an unclaimed shipment of mackerel.

Dear Ann Landers: Settle an argument, please. My husband won't believe me, but if he sees it in your column it might make a difference.

I love plants and keep two beautiful ficus pandoras in our living room. My husband insists that plants absorb the oxygen and rob us of healthy air. He is forever nagging me to get rid of the plants for the sake of our health.

I say the reverse is true — that the plants absorb the carbon dioxide thereby contributing to our good health. Who is right? And while you're at it, please tell me if cut flowers do the same thing — Green Thumb

Dear G.: My authorities on botany say you are closer to being right than your husband. Actually plants use up carbon dioxide but the infinitesimal amounts of oxygen they give off wouldn't contribute much to anyone's good health. Cut flowers do nothing, one way or the other.

Legislators To See Delta's Self-Help

Delta County plans a busy afternoon for 22 Michigan legislators and their families when they visit here next Thursday on a three-day tour of the Upper Peninsula.

Delta County and Escanaba and Gladstone planners set up an itinerary for the local tour this morning at the Delta County Building with County Supervisor Harold Vanlerberghe, who is chairman of the local committee, presiding.

The tour is a repeat of the successful legislative tour of 1965, which was also conceived by Ken Dorman, manager of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, and sponsored by the Association.

The tour is not an expense account item for the legislators and their families, so they are guests of local governments and establishments of the U. P. The tourists will be guests of the Delta County Board of Supervisors at a box luncheon in Fayette State Park at noon and will also make a refreshment stop at Pioneer Trail Park in Escanaba.

Thompson Stop
The tour starts with assembly at the Mackinac Bridge office at 9 a. m. Thursday and Delta County will take over at Thompson, where the tourists will see the State Fish Hatchery and coho salmon program facilities.

There'll be speakers on the two buses to tell what the visitors will see at Fayette State Park, where luncheon will be served in the picnic area, to be followed by a walking tour of the historic village, which attracted 90,000 visitors last year.

At Fayette, the legislators will be welcomed by Delta County Board Chairman Frank Stupak of Gladstone and, in a program presided over by Vanlerberghe, told why the State Highway Department should take over Delta County Rd. 483 from Garden Corners (18 miles) to Fayette. Newly appointed State Highway Commissioner, Claude Tobin of Escanaba will be among the program participants.

At Rapid River, the buses will stop to pick up Gladstone Mayor Arne Anderson and another spokesman to identify points of interest enroute to Gladstone, where the Eaton and in shock. Kennedy said they took him to the ferry landing and he suddenly jumped into the water to begin swimming, almost drowning in the crossing.

Will Resign If Voters Have Lost Confidence

Did Gargan and Markham watch his struggle without telephoning authorities for help? Or, if they had left and were unaware of the swim, weren't they concerned about where the troubled Kennedy had gone? Why did they take no apparent action that would have summoned officials?

Gargan, who is Kennedy's cousin, and Markham could not be reached for comment.

Kennedy was in seclusion at the family home here on Cape Cod, where one happy new fact emerged after the television speech—his wife, Joan, is four months pregnant, expecting the couple's fourth child.

Support Swelled
The senator addressed his possibility of resignation to Massachusetts voters only, asking their advice on whether he should stay in office. But there was no doubt that he was being judged also by the people of the nation, and his future hung in the balance.

In Massachusetts, the support swelled.

However, in Baltimore, Md., the switchboard at a television station counted its calls 38-4 in favor of Kennedy's resignation.

In Mount Healthy, Ohio, Mrs. Emmet Grainer said, "We simply feel that the broadcast was an insult and he didn't answer any of the necessary questions."

In New Orleans, La., taxicab driver John Chauvin said, "What if he were President and the Russians phoned on that hot line and said they were going to bomb us within the hour and he forgot to report it to the Pentagon?"

Seattle housewife Trudi Guberlet said, "I think his nine-hour period of confusion stemmed from just too many tragedies, each one following the next."

Kennedy said the question of his resignation had been prompted by the whispers that surrounded the accident.

Confidence
He said if the Massachusetts voters—with or without justification—had lost confidence in him, he should not continue in office.

He asked the advice and the prayers of the voters. But he said, "This is a decision that I will have finally to make on my own."

Kennedy did not say when he would make it. Few expected him to resign. But the impact on his future as a possible presidential candidate was another unanswered question.

The first real test could come next year when Kennedy is due to face re-election. Republicans, who had been expected to offer only a token opponent, may make a serious try now.

Yale & Towne plant will be viewed, the industrial park, the new water facility project and the new housing for the elderly. Exit will be by way of VanCleve Park.

To Visit Island

At the refreshment stop in Pioneer Trail Park there will be briefing on the Escanaba visit, which includes a walk-around at the Chicago & North Western Railway's new $16.5 million Escanaba Ore Terminal, where shiploading by conveyor method will be seen.

The presentation to the legislators will stress Delta County's self-help industrial efforts and civic works.

The buses will take the Mead Road and then the Sky Drive in the big Mead mill-yard for a panoramic view of the $56.6 million plant expansion financed with municipal development bonds sponsored by Cornell Township. The North Western ore terminal was similarly financed by the City of Escanaba, which also helped to finance the Harnischfeger Corp. truck crane plant expansion, and the new plant of Northern Motor Builders, all of which will be seen by the tourists.

The route will take them down Ludington St., and through Ludington Park to the new Escanaba Airport terminal buildings, where there will be farewells in the late afternoon when the buses leave for Iron Mountain. An overnight stop will be made there. On Friday the legislators will go to the Gogebic Range ski resorts, overnight at Houghton and leave Saturday for Isle Royale, where they will stay overnight.

Hare Picnic Set Sunday

The friends of James M. Hare are holding a picnic Sunday for the secretary of state at Dutch Mill off U.S.-41, six miles north of Rapid River in Delta County.

The Promenaders, an Escanaba square dancing group, will demonstrate dancing skills at the picnic.

According to William N. Hetzler, deputy secretary of state, there will be plenty of food, fun and beverages at this outing. "So bring your family and friends and enjoy a day with James M. Hare," he said.

Kansas City restaurant owner Lloyd Mayhew: "Put yourself in his place. You don't know what you would do. I'd vote for him."

No bearing on a presidential race, said Donnie L. Trammel of Atlanta, "I feel he should be elected on his political record and his basic record of service to the people."

"I don't think a man could be any good as a leader if it took so long to get himself straightened out," said retired school teacher Mrs. Edward Springer of Mill Valley, Calif.

Sen. Everett Dirksen, the Republican leader in the Senate declined comment as did Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., and Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, the GOP national chairman.

Ruppe Requests Lower Speeds For Freighters

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (R-Mich.) called today for an emergency eight mile per hour speed limit on the Saint Mary's River near Sault Ste. Marie.

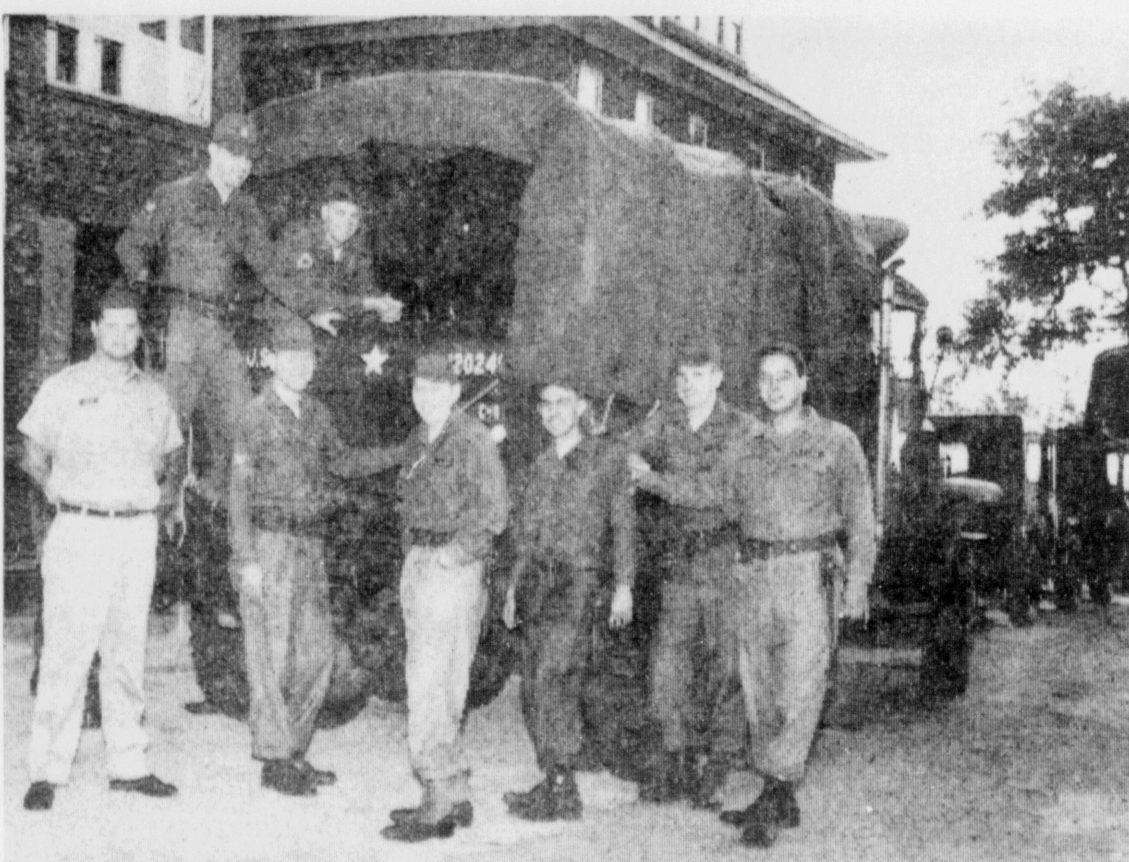

He declared that high water and the wakes of speeding ships are creating "a threat to life and property along the river."

In a letter to the Ninth Coast Guard District Commander, the Congressman described docks, beaches, and lawns being washed away. He said land erosion often cuts back 100, and even 200 feet, into shoreline property.

"In the past few weeks alone," Ruppe wrote, "property owners have lost four and five feet mire of shoreline from erosion caused by vessel wakes. I know of cases where the lives of children were endangered by the heavy wakes of passing ships."

Wheat Harvest At Denver Airport

DENVER (AP)—The wheat harvest is under way at Stapleton International Airport. While commercial jetliners roar to and from the busy airport, six combines are harvesting wheat grown on the airport's off-runway lands. It's expected to add about $7,500 to airport revenues this year, about one-third better than the usual performance because this year's 650-acre crop is a good one.

Mead Reports Highest Sales, Income Levels

PRINCE GEORGE, B. C.—The Mead Corp. reported the highest sales and net income in its history for the second quarter and first half of 1969, following a meeting of its Board of Directors here.

James W. McSwiney, president, said sales for the second quarter totalled $248,436,944, up 8.1 per cent over the $229,720,834 recorded in the second quarter of 1968. Earnings for the quarter totalled $9,837,694, or 57 cents per common share, after provision for payment of preferred dividends, up 7.5 per cent as compared with earnings of $9,261,595, or 53 cents per common share in the second quarter of 1968.

Sales Climb

Sales for the first half were up 8.7 per cent and earnings 11 per cent over 1968, McSwiney reported. The 1969 first half figures showed sales of $475,258,422, compared with $37,309,656 in the first six months of 1968. First half earnings totalled $17,822,298 equal to 99 cents per common share, after provision for preferred dividends as compared with $16,511,623, or 89 cents per share in 1968.

Both 1969 periods reflect Mead's share of the earnings of Northwood Pulp Limited and British Columbia Forest Products. Earnings per share figures are based on an average of 12,133,645 common shares outstanding for the first half of 1969, compared with an average of 12,126,880 shares outstanding for the similar period in 1968.

"Mead's pulp, paper and paperboard businesses have performed quite well and we are encouraged by the outlook in these areas. It is not yet clear what impact high interest rates and the money supply may have in segments of our business, such as pipe and technical papers, which are related to housing starts," McSwiney reported.

Inspect Facility

After the Directors' inspection of the facilities of Northwood Pulp Limited, a Mead affiliate located near Prince George, McSwiney commented: "The outlook for Northwood is most encouraging. Production averaged 714 tons per day in June against a design capacity of 625 tons per day. Pulp prices have advanced and the premium quality of Northwood pulp assures ready acceptance in the market."

He also noted that British Columbia Forest Products had record sales and earnings for the first six months of 1969, and the outlook for the remainder of the year seems promising.

A plan of reorganization and merger agreement has been signed by which Stanley Furniture Co. Inc., will become part of Mead.

The agreement is subject to the approval of holders of more than two-thirds of the outstanding stock of Stanley and a meeting of Stanley share owners has been called to vote on the matter Monday, Aug. 18, 1969 in Stanleytown, Va. If Stanley share owners approve, the agreement will then be subject to a favorable tax ruling on an exchange of stock whereby share owners of Stanley will receive two and one-eighth Mead common shares for each share of Stanley.

Guardsmen Off For Grayling

National Guardsmen of Co. C, 107th Engineer Battalion, left the armory at Wells at 6:30 a. m. today for two weeks of annual field training at Camp Grayling.

After arriving at the camp later today, the guardsmen will spend two days setting up camp and drawing equipment. Monday morning they will conduct a tactical march to the bivouac area and set up offensive positions for combat training.

On Friday morning, the Guardsmen will return to the main encampment and prepare for Saturday's inspection and parade. Gov. William Milliken will be on hand Saturday to inspect the troops.

The second week will be spent in the main camp and the guardsmen will be occupied with the construction of roads, airfields and bridges. Co. C is scheduled to return to Wells Saturday, Aug. 9, and should arrive home sometime that afternoon.

Capt. Stephen Fraddo of Escanaba is the commanding officer of Co. C and the platoon leaders are Capt. Ronald Patryk of Manistique, Lt. Merton Lambert of Marquette and Lt. Chester Walker of Marquette.

Nixon Sounds Out On Self-Help Theme

sentiment runs strong here, and militant Filipinos often complain that Manila's ties with Washington are still too close.

The Marcos government, friendly to the United States, is wrestling with rising crime rates, allegations of widespread corruption, an active opposition and military forays by Communist-inspired Huk guerrillas.

Involved in a battle for re-election this fall, Marcos is almost certain to benefit from the Nixon visit. His opponent is a onetime political ally, Sen. Sergio Osmena Jr.

Osmena lost political points recently on a private trip to the United States when he failed to get an appointment with Nixon. Marcos used diplomatic influence to insure that, one official said.

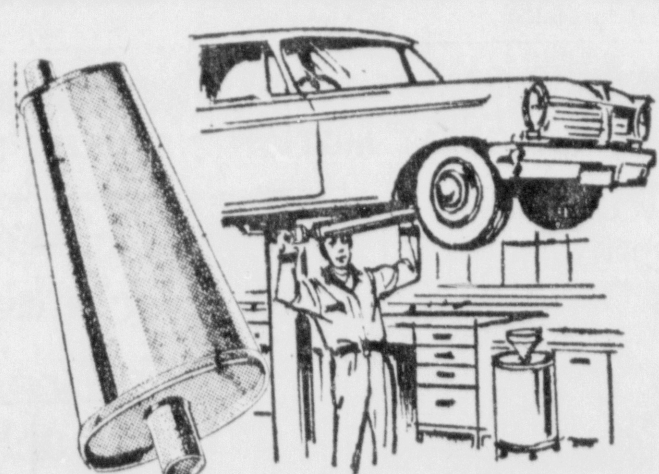

Wishing to appear neutral during his visit, although he is staying at the presidential palace and sleeping in a bed vacated by Marcos, Nixon set aside time in Manila for a hotel-suite meeting with Osmena.

AA Chapter Meets Sunday

The local chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous will hold an open meeting Sunday at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

Chet M., an AA member from Toledo, Ohio will be guest speaker. He founded the first AA group in that city.

Anyone interested in learning about the problem drinker is invited to attend the open meeting.

Alcoholics Anonymous meet every Sunday night at 8 p.m. On Thursdays, Al - Anons, friends and families of alcoholics, meet at 8 p.m. Anyone interested may receive further information by calling 341-2024 or by writing P.O. Box 3, Manistique.

Park Attendance Reported Down

Camping permits issued at the Indian Lake State Park through July 20 reflect a slight increase over permits issued last year for the same period. However, attendance at the Park is down 4,000 for the period.

In a comparative report issued by the Newberry District Parks, 4,192 camping permits

Inland Steel Earnings Drop

Inland Steel company has reported lower earnings for the second quarter and first half, on reduced sales and steel shipments.

Second quarter earnings totaled $19,653,000, or $1.08 per share, compared with $26,077,000, or $1.43 per share in the 1968 period, a decline of 25 per cent.

First half earnings totaled $36,605,000, or $2.01 per share, compared with $49,987,000, or $2.74 per share in the comparable 1968 period, a decline of 27 per cent.

"The sharp decline in current earnings is accounted for by the lower level of mill shipments, generally higher costs not offset by increased selling prices, and by work stoppages at iron ore and coal operations," Chairman Philip D. Block Jr. said in his letter to stockholders. "In addition, severe shortages of mill production personnel had an adverse impact on overtime costs and operational efficiency."

Second quarter sales were $292,628,000, compared with $301,349,000 in the 1968 period, a decline of three per cent.

A $1 adult admission and 50 cents student admission is charged for the concert.

Medical Care Up 50% In Decade

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The high cost of food, clothing, shelter and medical care — the essentials for life — are the chief offenders in today's budget, outweighing increases for personal care, recreation and transportation.

But chief among the offenders is the item referred to by the Dept. of Labor as medical care. In just one year it has risen 7.5 per cent and in the past decade about 50 per cent.

In fact, according to the Health Insurance Institute, the annual rate of increase for hospital room charges, a big factor in medical care, has been more than three times that of the overall consumer priceindex.

A survey published in recent weeks by the Health Insurance Council shows that in the nation's voluntary hospitals the average price of a single bed was $42.60 at the end of 1968, but with great variations from one part of the country to another.

Bed Prices

The study, perhaps the most complete ever made of hospital charges, shows that in non-metropolitan areas the average price of a single bed was $34.10, but exactly $12 more than that in big city areas.

By far the most expensive area was New England, where the single bed price averaged $56.60, compared with a Pacific Coast average of $33.90, a Middle Atlantic total of $52, and a West South Central figure of

MANISTIQUE Walleye Fishing Is Picking Up

Weather has been hot and humid during the day and cool at night. Winds have circled the compass.

Stream levels are slightly above normal but receding. "Water table" lake levels are still extremely high.

The flower of the week could be any one of a half dozen. The wood lilies are quite common in the SE portion of the district. Ox-eyed and yellow daisies and brown-eyed Susans are common, especially along the roadways. The Indian paint brush is profuse. Pitcher plants, yellow lady slippers and "swamp orchids" are adding color to the lowlands.

Blueberries are beginning to ripen but are not as abundant as earlier reported.

Fishing varies from poor to good, and varies from lake to lake and stream to stream.

Lake Trout — Good catches still being made in Pendills Bay, Chippewa County and off Grand Marais, Alger County. Lake Trout are moving away from the shoals, but some are still taken by trolling in shoal water. Good catches are made by "bobbing" in 160-180 feet in Pendills Bay.

Coho — Some fish are taken by trolling off Grand Marais, Alger County. One 12" fish was taken at the mouth of Carp River, Mackinac County, which is presumed to be one of this year's plant. Schools of fish have been observed porpoising off the Les Cheneaux Islands. Some fishermen seem to think these are coho, but they do not take lures offered. Others suspect they are carp which are quite abundant in shoal waters of northern Lake Huron and Michigan.

Brook Trout — In Alger County reports of good catches have come from the Sucker River. In Schoolcraft County the Fox River and E. Branch of Fox are the streams. The fish are feeding heavily on insect larvae and lying deep in the pools which might give the fishermen a clue on how to make a respectable catch. Surface waters of trout lakes are very warm, so it is suggested that fishermen fish deep with spoons and night crawlers.

Menominee — Fish have been noted all along the Superior shore from Grand Marais to Whitefish Point. Some nice catches have been made at the mouth of the Two Hearted River.

Walleye — Very good catches are reported from Munuscong Bay at the mouth of the Munuscong River and Barbeau Point. Best lures are night crawler rigs and Rapalas. Best fishing is early morning and late evening. Some fish have been taken in Frenchman and Carp lakes also. A 29" (7½ pounds) fish was taken in Frenchman Lake on July 20 using a dave devil and trolling slowly. A 6 pound fish was taken on Carp Lake. Fair catches are made on Big Manistique just off the Helmer access point and around the 3 islands in the west portion of the lake. Fishing is picking up on Indian, Gulliver and Thunder lakes, Schoolcraft Co. Some fair catches have been reported from the mouth of the Tahquamenon River, Chippewa County and in the river below Newberry, Luce County.

S. M. Bass — Some nice fish reported from Gulliver Lake, Schoolcraft County and Les Cheneaux Channels, Mackinac County.

Northern Pike — In Chippewa County fair catches made in Shell Lake Flowage. In Frenchman Lake several fish, most of them below the 20" class have been taken and a few in the 6-10 pound class have been taken in Carp Lake. In Luce County Vern Alexander caught a 16½ pound fish from one of the Little Two Hearted Lakes on July 20th using a blue dave devil. Some fish reported from Muskallonge and Pike lakes and Blind Sucker Flowage.

In Schoolcraft County Stanley and McDonald lakes have been producing fair catches but the size is small. The red and white dave devil is the most productive lure.

Muskellunge — Several muskies have been reported from Munuscong Bay area. A muskie, 30" long was taken on Gulliver Lake (Fishermen are reminded that muskies must be 30" long to be legal). A few "tackle busters" have been reported hooked and lost in the Tahquamenon River near Newberry.

Chamber May Hire Solicitor

The Top O' Lake Chamber of Commerce board of directors will meet Tuesday at 8 a.m. for a dutch treat breakfast at the Surf.

Chamber president Nat Dellis has listed several action items on the monthly agenda, including discussion on Michigan Week 1970 activities, a fall general membership meeting, Coho advertising, proposed by-law changes and change in name of the Chamber, and the hiring of a full-time solicitor for the membership drive.

A good attendance is urged.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Ilene Pierce and Gerald Dorn.

Discharged were Florian Rabineau, Abraham Lemaster, Lori MacPhail, Hazel Hastings, Grover Blauth, Rae Highland, Alice Backman and Glenn LaDue.

only $33.50.

Perhaps surprisingly, the average bed prices in proprietary or private hospitals averaged only $33. Such hospitals, however, often have fewer services than voluntary hospitals, as well as poorer research facilities and no association with the large medical schools.

Bed prices are only one cost involved in a hospital stay. There are also the prices of doctors and drugs and extra nursing care to contend with. As almost any family knows, the total bill can be shockingly high.

Demand

What are the reasons for the rising prices of medical care, which causes you now to pay $15.52 for what would have cost $10 or so about 10 years ago?

Here is the explanation offered by the Health Insurance Institute, which represents the companies that write health insurance:

—The high cost of modern medical life saving machinery and techniques.

—Development of new job classifications. Many hospitals now use 2½ hospital employees per patient compared with 1½ several years ago.

—The wage level rise of hospital personnel from the elevator operator to the head surgeon.

Also contributing here are trends toward unionization and demands for fringe benefits.

—A general population that is more educated and more demanding with regard to its overall health care needs.

Ladies Golf At Indian Lake

Golf prizes for Wednesday afternoon ladies play at Indian Lake Golf and Country Club went to Mrs. Bud Malloy, low gross of 48, and Mrs. Carl Carlson, low net of 40.

In foursome play, low net went to Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur, Mrs. Warren Deloria, Mrs. N. H. Modders and Mrs. Carl Carlson. Low gross awards in foursome play went to Mrs. Jess Gutierrez, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. John Davidson and Mrs. John LaPointe.

Mrs. Morris F. Laux, president, introduced Mrs. Jack Eurich of Phoenix, Ariz. and Miss Ramona Kay Hentschell as guests following the seven o'clock supper. Mrs. Laux also announced that Miss Helen Jean Voisine, represented the Indian Lake Golf Club at the U.P. Golf Tournament board meeting in Marquette Monday night. Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur attended the semi-final and final play of the tournament on Thursday.

Bridge awards went to Mrs. Hugh Brotherton, Mrs. Donald Hoholik, Mrs. Charles Spawr, Mrs. N. H. Modders and Mrs. Stanley Arnold.

Mrs. Ronald Provo, Mrs. William Hentschell and Mrs. Ian McKilligan will be hostesses for the July 30 dinner meeting. Reservations or cancellations may be made by noon Tuesday with the club steward.

Announcement was also made of an invitational at the Pictured Rocks Golf and Country Club in Munising on Aug. 30. Tee-off time is 2 p.m.

Transport Cars Nose-End Down

DETROIT (AP)—A method of transporting twice as many small cars at a time is being studied by General Motors Corp. for possible use when its minicar, the XP 887, goes into production in mid-1970.

The cars would be taken on nose-end down.

Experiments in the new shipping method have been conducted by Southern Pacific Railroad, and GM has shown the system to several other railroads.

The proposed system would enable one freight car to hold 30 of the new small cars. Current railroad freight cars have two or three levels and hold 12 to 15 automobiles in horizontal position.

GM has told the railroads that its XP 887 will be 169 inches long and weigh less than 2,000 pounds. The car will be about 10 inches longer than the Volkswagen but one-half foot shorter than Ford's new compact auto, the Maverick.

Under GM's proposal, the railroad freight cars would have sides that open. The minicar would be driven onto the railroad car, then clamped onto a panel which would be tilted up so that the car would stand vertically, like a book on a bookshelf.

The name "Vert-a-Pac" has been tagged on the new system.

Southern Pacific reportedly has made at least one test run of the system to Jacksonville, Fla.

GM's new minicar will be built at a Chevrolet plant in Lordstown, Ohio.

The firm has indicated no problems would be likely from possible leaking of gas, oil or water from the autos while they are carried vertically.

Company officials also have indicated that shipment of the autos in a box-like structure would reduce vandalism from thrown rocks.

White Panther Head Convicted

DETROIT (AP) — Hippie and White Panther Leader John Sinclair was convicted Friday by a Recorder's Court jury of possession of marijuana.

Sinclair was sent to Wayne County Jail without bond until Monday when he will be sentenced by Judge Robert Colombo. He faces as much as 10 years in prison.

Police said Sinclair, who now lives in Ann Arbor and manages the MC-5 rock band, gave two marijuana cigarettes to two undercover agents on Dec. 22, 1966.

Pretrial motions and a mistrial held up proceedings until just recently.

The two undercover agents, narcotics bureau patrolman Vanhan Kapagian and policewoman Jane Mumford, infiltrated Wayne State University's hip community late in 1966.

Kapagian testified that Sinclair gave him and Miss Mumford the two cigarettes for free when they visited his apartment at the Artists' Workshop near the WSU campus.

Kapagian and Mumford made excuses about not wanting to smoke them, and turned the two cigarettes over to the police. Sinclair was arrested a month later.

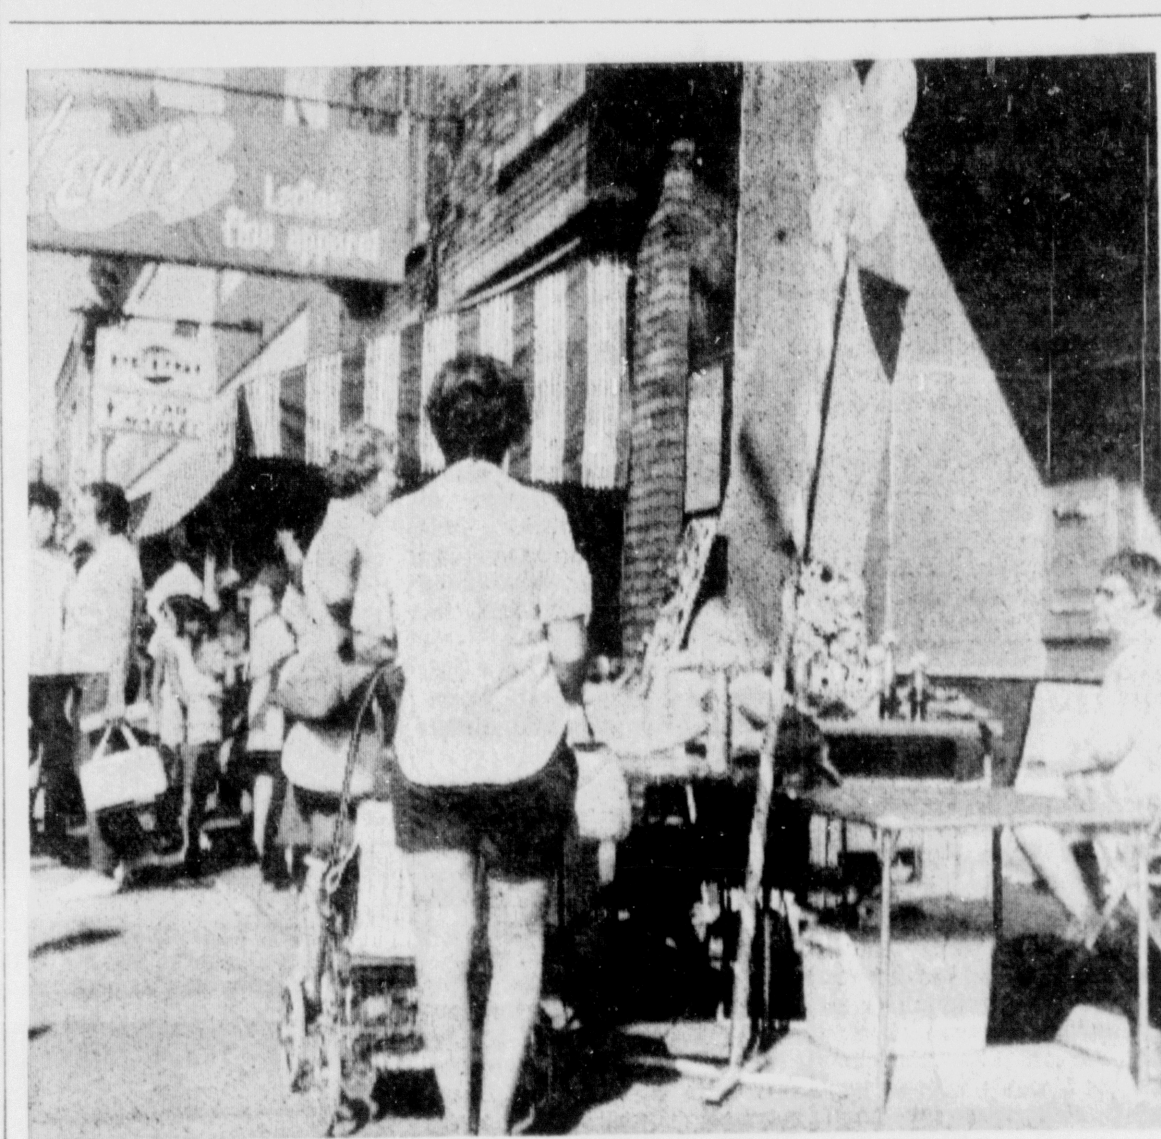

Briefly Told

State Police issued traffic summonses to Joyce L. Plovman, 516 S. 17th St., Escanaba, speeding, and Ronald Rochefort, Fayette, no operator's license on Thursday.

Frederick G. Martin, 41, 112 S. Houghton Ave., pleaded guilty to driving while under the influence of intoxicants at a District Court arraignment Friday morning and paid a fine and costs of $60 and $40. Martin was arrested and lodged in the Schoolcraft County jail at 7:05 Thursday night after his auto struck another vehicle driven by Robert V. Hubble, 43, Rte. 1, on U.S. 2 in Manistique Township. No personal injuries were reported in the mishap, troopers said.

Milliken Signs Disputed Recreation Bond Bill

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has signed 29 bills into law, including the much disputed measure splitting the $100 million in recreation bond funds between urban and out-state areas.

The bill allocated $30 million to local communities on a population basis and $70 million to the State Department of Natural Resources. Of the $70 million, $45 million is earmarked for state recreation projects and the remaining $25 million will be spent on state-initiated projects in or near urban areas.

"Generations of Michigan residents will benefit from this legislation which is designed to help meet recreation needs throughout the state," the governor said.

Conservationists had called for $70 million of the voter-approved bond money to be spent on outstate projects. They maintained the people had voted for the bond issue after being promised $70 million for out-state projects.

Impounded Vehicle

Milliken pushed for more money for urban areas, however, advocating a 30-30-40 provision of the funds with some $60 million going to urban recreation projects.

Among other bills signed Friday by the governor were those to:

—Provide for the investigation of cause of death due to violence, negligence or acts of a criminal nature.

—Provide that when a vehicle is impounded by a police officer on court order after conviction of a driver for driving with a revoked or suspended license that the order shall include the implied consent of the owner of the vehicle to the storage for insurance coverage purposes.

—Provide that elected and appointed members of the boards of control of state institutions of higher education in Michigan be registered voters in this state.

—Permit counties to pledge full faith and credit for bonding for parks and recreation areas and facilities. This will enable counties to bond to speed up development of recreation facilities by matching state grants through the Recreation Bond Act.

Hike Title Fee

—Remove restrictive language and clarify the meaning of the origin of animals eligible for indemnity when ordered killed by the director of agriculture because of a diseased condition.

—Provide for a $2 increase in the fees for a new certificate of title for a motor vehicle and for special vehicle identification numbers for vehicles without serial numbers.

—Amend the Fourth Class Cities Act to facilitate bonding by local communities to meet sewage treatment needs.

—Eliminate the limitation of 5 per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in Fourth Class cities for borrowing money for the exclusive purpose of purchasing, constructing or extending waterworks.

—Amend the Revenue Bond Act to allow municipalities to pledge their full faith and credit for the payment of bonds without a vote of the people. This applies to bonds issued for projects with more than 25 per cent federal or state financing.

—Extend to townships the authority for disposing of sewage and garbage and financing thereof.

—Permit the Michigan Department of Agriculture to adopt changes in the 1965 edition of the Pastureized Milk Ordinance and administrative procedure when such changes are approved by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and delete the definition of low fat milk so the definition in the 1965 "pasteurized Milk Ordinance" will apply.

—Modify the eligibility requirements for aid to dependent children in foster care in conformance with permissive federal language in order to obtain additional federal matching.

Airport Loans

—Provide for creation of a revolving loan account ($250,000 from the State Aeronautics Fund) for the purpose of making loans to municipalities for airport development.

—Repeat the Soft Drink Act and broaden Michigan Food Law of 1968 by including all sections under the penalty provision section and delete the provision exempting carbonated beverages from the ingredient listing requirement.

—Provide that a person who receives workmen's compensation for personal injury in an automobile accident will be entitled to recover from the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund for property damage only.

Increase the maximum number of members of multicounty economic development commissions to 35.

—Amend the law regarding the obligation of bonded indebtedness for certain portions of reorganized school districts.

—And the new Muskegon Regional Mental Retardation Center to the list of facilities which are the responsibility of the Department of Mental Health.

—Revise medical requirements for determining whether a person should be admitted to a mental institution.

Scientists Try To Protect Man From Big Swan

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP) — Whistling swans are protected against the various agencies interested in the work.

Another 22 birds were fitted with tiny transistor radios giving out a beeping signal.

"They follow a fairly consistent path of migration," Mikula said. "They swing over Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River, across Saginaw Bay and up across Michigan to their northwest nesting territory. Then they follow the same route coming back."

Study Patterns

There are likely to be concentrations of the birds around airports at Detroit, Cleveland and Toronto.

"They are strong fliers and can go for long distances," Mikula said. "They will fly anywhere from 2,000 to 10,000 feet in height."

Purpose of the study is to learn more about such migration patterns. Then pilots can be warned when they might run into a flock of birds.

Other migrating wildfowl, such as ducks or geese, cause the same problem. So do soaring hawks.

"A large bird can smash through a cockpit windshield or mess up an engine," Mikula said. "We need more accurate information to forecast their flights."

As air traffic increases, he said, it becomes more and more of a problem.

One tentative idea is the use of high frequency radar beam that would temporarily paralyze the bird and cause it to fall out of the path of the aircraft.

Then the bird would survive and so would the airplane passengers.

Brampton Will Vote On Millage

The Brampton Township Board of Education has called a special election for Tuesday, Aug. 5, for the purpose of voting a two and a half mill tax for full state aid participation and operational expenses.

According to Walter VanDeWeghe, secretary, a two and one fourth mill levy will expire and the new proposal, if approved, will only be a one fourth mill increase or 25 cents per $1,000 valuation.

The board has accepted the bid of the Pearson Supply Co., Escanaba, for a furnace for the school.

Students End WMU Session

KALAMAZOO — Five Delta County students, four from Gladstone and one from Escanaba, have completed a three-day orientation program at Western Michigan University where they will enroll as freshmen this fall.

VITAL BRIDGE

Living on an island has its problems! Islands are just fine . . . until you run out of bread or need the refrigerator fixed. That's why we built this rustic bridge last summer. It's safer for the children than our old boat, and it links us with our neighbors if we or they need help in a hurry.

There is great need for another bridge these days . . . not of wood or stone, but of understanding between the world's people. "No man is an island . . ." We are all children of God, made in His image.

The Christian Church is the living bridge that seeks to unite men everywhere in the fellowship of Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace. By supporting your church and striving to live by its teachings, you help to span the gulf of ignorance and fear that still separates us from our brothers.

Christine M. Olson, Gerald J. Dishno Wed

St. Thomas the Apostle Church was the setting today, July 26 for the wedding of Christine Marie Olson of Escanaba and Gerald James Dishno of Rte. 1, Cornell.

The Rev. Arnold Thompson officiated at the early afternoon service and bouquets of yellow gladiolus and white daisies and chrysanthemums adorned the church altar for the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Olson, 1226 Stephenson Ave. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James N. Dishno of Rte. 1, Cornell.

New Pregnancy Test Takes 20 Seconds

"Am I pregnant?" This has traditionally been one of the most personal and important questions a woman asks her doctor.

And the time between question and answer has always been a most anxious and sometimes agonizing waiting period, both for the woman who wants to become pregnant and the one who does not.

The reason for this time lapse has been the necessity in the past for time-consuming analysis of the patient's urine in outside laboratories utilizing laboratory animals. More recently, the time lapse was shortened with the development of procedures that can be implemented in the doctor's office. However, because these tests are often difficult to interpret, most doctors do not do tests in their own offices, but rather send them out to a lab. This can mean a wait of up to three days for results.

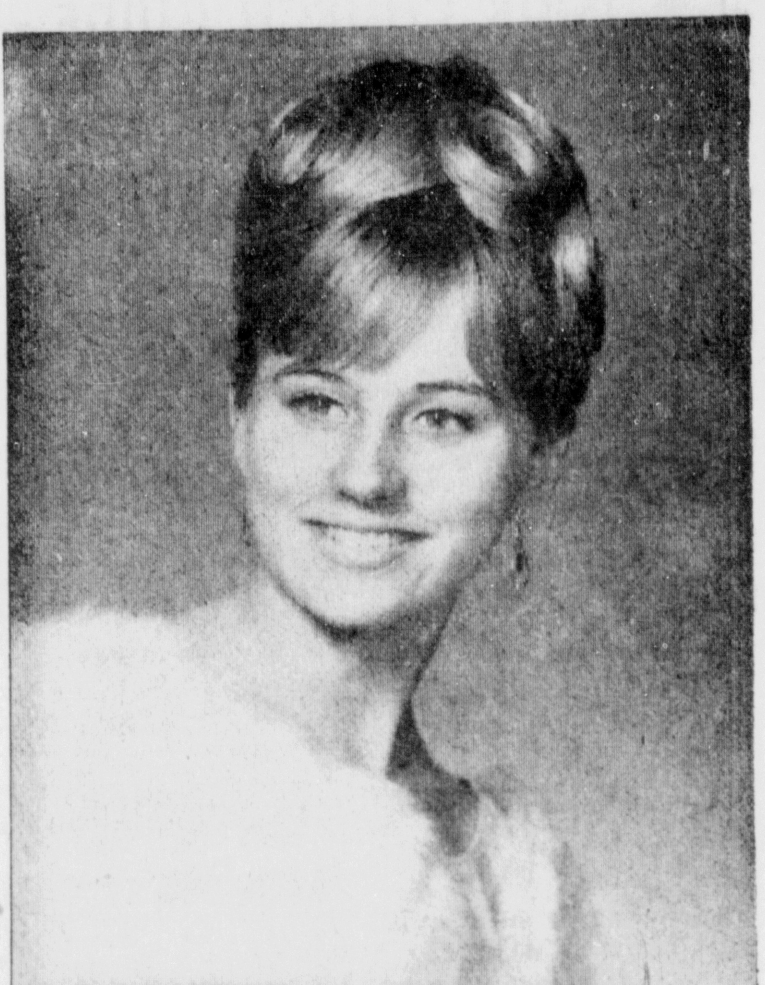

Today, the waiting period has been entirely eliminated with the introduction of the first practical chemical test method for doctors' use to detect pregnancy.

Now available to doctors for the first time, the test was invented by Harry W. Gordon, Ph.D.

Dr. Gordon reports that clinical tests have found the Twintest test to be as effective as any standard immunologic screening test for pregnancy now in use. Because of the speed and reliability of the method, and the fact that no special equipment is needed, it is expected that the test will be used widely in doctors' offices as a routine examination technique, Dr. Gordon said.

Performed after extensive research, the Twintest test analysis is based on a color reaction that occurs when a sample of the patient's urine is mixed with a few drops of a special reagent. The doctor merely matches the specimen to a predetermined color chart to obtain a positive (pregnant) or negative (not pregnant) reading.

Among the most important advantages provided by the Twintest test is the ease and economy with which doctors can check all women patients of childbearing age for pregnancy as an added measure of caution, especially before prescribing certain types of drugs.

Joan Kennedy Expecting Her Fourth Child

BOSTON (AP) — Mrs. Joan Kennedy, the 32-year-old wife of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, is expecting her fourth child in February, the Boston Herald Traveler reported today.

The paper said a Kennedy family spokesman confirmed the report shortly after the Massachusetts Democrat appealed to state residents to help him decide his political future in a nationally broadcast television and radio speech.

The senator said in the speech that "reasons of health" prevented his attractive blonde wife from accompanying him last Friday to a party on Chapquidick Island, where Kennedy was later involved in an auto accident that killed a 28-year-old woman.

The Kennedys have three children, Kara, 9; Edward Jr., 7; and Patrick, 2.

Mrs. Kennedy has lost two children in miscarriages in July 1963, and June, 1964.

The Kennedys were married in New York in 1958.

Summer 4-H Trips Enjoyed By Rock Girls

Susan Laitinen, 15, and Patricia Waak, 14, have both enjoyed trips earned through 4-H Club work. Susan attended Youth Week at Michigan State University in June. She is a member of the West Rock 4-H Club, Marquette County and is a student at Rock High School.

Patricia is a member of the Rock 4-H Club, Delta County and attended the State 4-H conservation camp at Chatham last week.

The two clubs joined this year to make the annual club trip of sightseeing and learning about the Upper Peninsula. The group left Wednesday morning, July 23 for the Porcupine Mountains, camped overnight, traveled on to Copper Harbor and other areas and returned home Thursday night.

Sophia Loren Likes Russia But Misses Baby

KHLEBNIKOVO, Soviet Union (AP) — Sophia Loren likes movie making in Russia, but she misses her 7-month-old son.

"Now is the time they do so many things—tiny things—and I won't be able to see all that," the Italian actress said in an interview in this town just outside Moscow.

She left little Carlo Ponti Jr. in Rome two weeks ago and came here to shoot scenes for the movie "Sunflower," in which she is starring with Marcello Mastroianni.

Resting in her trailer between scenes beside a lake, Miss Loren said Carlo Jr. will make his film debut in the movie later in Italy.

"It's a very small scene," she said, smiling proudly.

The star said before the baby was born she was "also happy but not as much as now because before there always was something missing."

"Maybe now I get less upset about the tiny problems you have every day," she said in a low, smooth voice filled with warmth.

"Sunflower," to be released next year, tells of an Italian woman's postwar trip to Russia to find her soldier husband.

Miss Loren's son will "play" the part of a baby she has by a new husband in Italy after finding that her soldier husband has married a Russian girl.

Dressed in a plain brown dress, her hair grayed for the part, Miss Loren praised the friendliness of the few Russians she has met while filming here and in Moscow's Red Square.

"They are so sweet because they come with flowers, apples, pears . . . They want to make you understand," she said.

Although a movie of hers has not been shown here since "Marriage Italian Style" four years ago, she said Russians on the street recognize her.

After a week of filming in the Ukraine starting Friday, she flies home to her baby.

Game Better Says Nicklaus After Record

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the burly golden bear, had his game in gear and appeared ready to again assume his position as the dominant figure in the game of golf today going into the third round of the American Golf Classic.

The 210-pound Ohio strongboy was a long way from pleased, however, even after a pair of 66s for a course record 132 on one of the toughest layouts the pros play, the awesome 7,180-yard par 70 south course at Firestone Country Club.

"I could have played better," said Nicklaus, who is fighting his way out of a slump that has lasted, off and on, for almost six months.

Snead Battles Youthful Pros

MONTREAL (AP) — An age versus youth battle appears in the making for the climax to this year's Canadian Open Golf Championship.

A pair of seasoned veterans—who between them have won some 270 tournaments—were battling it out with two newcomers young enough to be their sons as the $125,000 tournament entered the third round today.

Sam Snead, who admits to 57 years and 131 tournament victories, continues to lead the way after firing his second consecutive sub-par round. He slipped one stroke to a four-under-par 68 from his opening round, but still wound up on top Friday with a 135 total.

That was one stroke better than Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina, who at 46, claims he's lost count of his tournament victories, but contends a 140 figure wouldn't be far wrong.

Statemen Challenged

However, the two elder statemen were challenged by two relative unknowns, each seeking his first tournament victory and the $25,000 first prize.

Les Peterson of Riverside, Calif., a 28-year-old who graduated from the PGA's qualifier school last January, trails Snead by three strokes after rounds of 70 and 68. Peterson has won only $3,000 as a pro.

Vaughan Trapp of Victoria, B.C., also remained within reach of his first big pay day. Trapp, a pro for nine of his 25 years, Friday fired a two-under 70 to go with his first-day 69 to put him four strikes back at 139.

Bunched At 140

Three golfers were bunched at 140 behind Trapp.

Toronto's Al Balding put together a pair of 70s for his total, while England's Tony Jacklin, this year's British Open champ, notched a one-under 71 to go with his opening round 69.

Japan's Takaaki Kono fired a second-round 68 that included an eagle-three on the par-five, 466-yard 18th to go with his first-round par-72.

Manistique Team Loses

IRON MOUNTAIN — Manistique's Little League bowed out of district competition Friday, falling to K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, 5-1.

K. I. Sawyer jumped to a 1-0 lead in the second inning and added two more runs in the fourth inning before Manistique scored.

Bill Pistulka, Manistique pitcher, walked, moved to third on a single by Scott Harrison and scored on a sacrifice fly by Paul Schmieder. Pistulka had the only other hit for Manistique, a single in the last inning.

In the other game, Iron Mountain rallied from a 6-1 deficit in the third inning to beat Iron River 10-8.

Finals in the tournament between Iron Mountain and K. I. Sawyer were scheduled at 2:30 p.m. today.

The line score:

Manistique . . . 000 010—1 2 4
K. I. Sawyer 010 22—5 3 1

Pistulka and Lund; Mance and Anderson.

Bob Iverson, Gardiner Win Twice At Norway

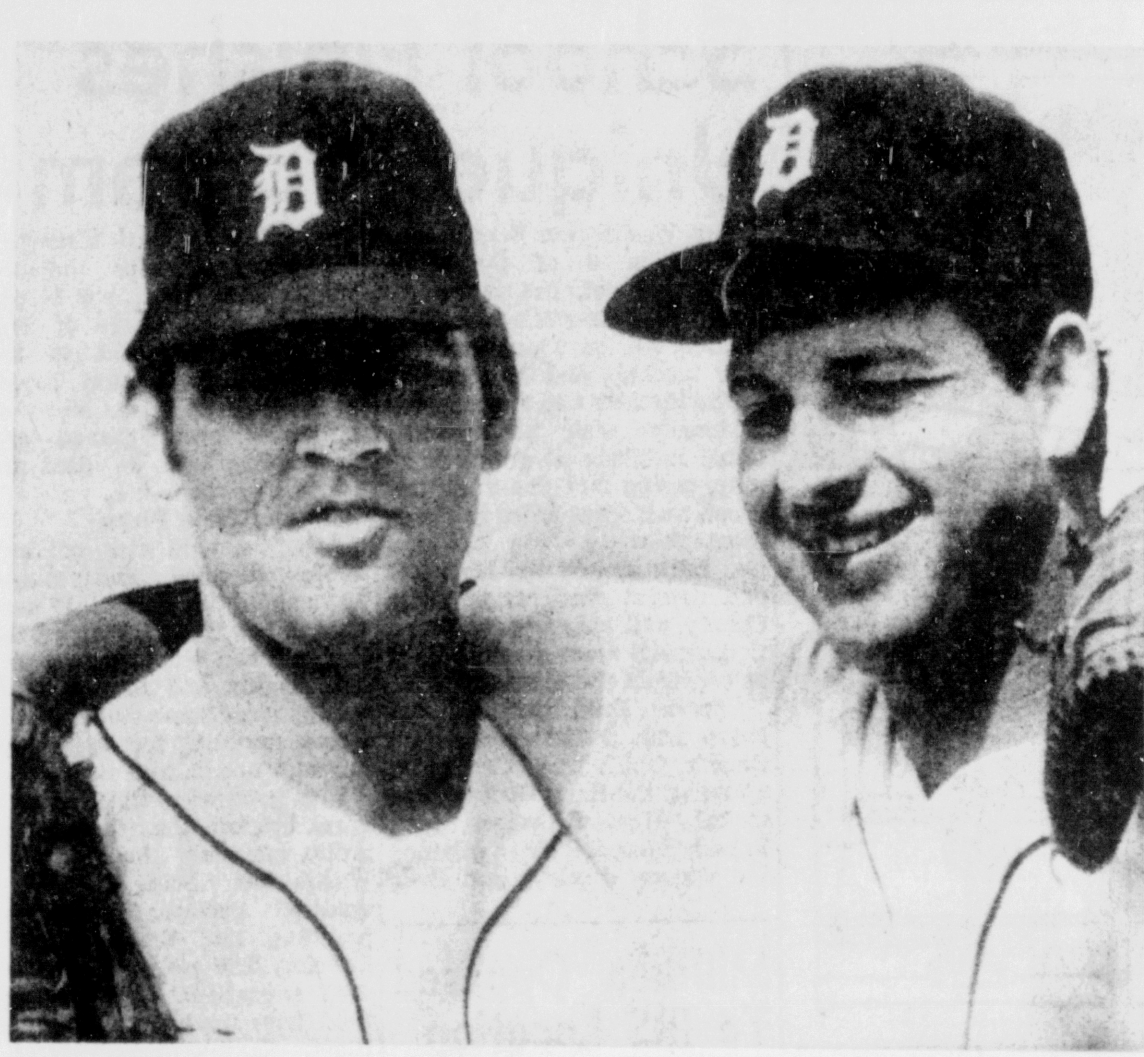

NORWAY—Bob Iverson paced modified action and Duke Gardiner lead the sportsmen racing Friday night before a crowd of 1,600.

Iverson, of Hyde, was a double winner, capturing honors in the second heat, and the feature.

In the 20-lap feature, Fran Ansell of Garden moved out to an early lead. The battle was between Ansell and the Iverson brothers for first place. Bob shot into first on the 13th lap and led the rest of the night for his second win of the night and 23rd of the year. In a close battle for second, Ansell edged out Ken Iverson.

Bob Iverson also won the second heat. In another close battle for second Ken Iverson this time nipped Ansell.

First heat honors went to Gary Randall of Escanaba. A distant second was Jim Barron

Beautiful Night For Hank Aaron Fails To Save Atlanta Braves

By The Associated Press

It was a beautiful night for Hank Aaron but a bleak one for the Atlanta Braves.

Aaron reached two important career plateaus Friday but couldn't prevent the Braves from bowing to Montreal 8-7.

His first inning double was the 2,900th hit of his career, leaving him 100 short of his announced goal of 3,000. Then Aaron tagged his 536th homer, tying Mickey Mantle for third place on the all-time list. Only Babe Ruth with 714 and Willie Mays with 596 have hit more than the Atlanta slugger.

Aaron, who started this season with 510 career homers has moved past Mel Ott (511), Eddie Mathews (512), Ted Williams (521) and Jimmy Foxx (534) this season, jumping from eighth place to a tie for third on the all-time list. "Those homers are all behind me," he said, "I hope there's a lot more left."

Elsewhere in the National League, New York trimmed Cincinnati 4-3, Los Angeles clipped Chicago 4-2, Philadelphia ripped Houston 7-3, San Diego edged Pittsburgh 3-2 and St. Louis squeezed past San Francisco 2-1 in 13 innings.

All of Aaron's hitting couldn't wipe out an early four-run lead which the Expos built in the first inning against Atlanta ace Phil Niekro on consecutive homers by Bob Bailey and Coco Laboy.

Expos Built Lead

Bailey connected after Adolfo Phillips and Mack Jones had singled and then Laboy tagged a solo shot. Later Rusty Staub added a two-run homer.

Staub's shot gave Montreal an 8-2 edge and the Braves peeked away at it but couldn't quite catch the Expos.

J.C. Martin's two-out, two-run homer in the eighth inning climaxed a New York rally that pushed the Mets past Cincinnati.

Jenkins Hit

Andy Kosco ripped a pinch two-run double that pulled the Dodgers past Chicago after Ferguson Jenkins was struck by a line drive and forced to leave the game.

Maury Wills had singled with one out in the third and then Willie Crawford ripped a liner that struck Jenkins on his pitching thumb and forced him to leave the game. Hank Aguirre relieved and after Willie Davis forced Crawford, Kosco battled for Len Gabrielson and doubled both runs home.

X-rays of Jenkins' thumb were negative and he is not expected to miss any pitching turns.

Grant Jackson scattered seven hits and snapped a personal four-game losing streak, pitching Philadelphia past Houston. It was only the second victory in the last 12 games for the Phillies.

Gibson Wins

San Diego pushed across a pair of unearned runs in the sixth inning and Joe Niekro made them stand up to beat Pittsburgh.

Richie Hebner, who had homered for the Pirates earlier, threw wild on Van Kelley's grounder, allowing one for to score and setting up another for the Padres.

Bob Gibson pitched a six hitter, striking out 11 and ignited St. Louis' winning rally in the 13th inning with a single as the Cardinals trimmed the Giants.

Gibson scored St. Louis' winning run in the 13th on hits by Phil Gagliano and Curt Flood as the Cards won their 14th game in the last 18.

When the Detroit Tigers won the 1968 American League pennant it marked their eighth flag. They have won the World Series three times.

hitting all season, and second year players, Dave Johnson and Rick Bruce.

The Packers who won the Junior league championship were captured by Jeff Kallio. Other boys who contributed heavily were Arne Anderson, John Morrison, Mike Kallio, and Dave Cappeart.

The alumni game, rained out last week, will be played Tuesday at 6 p.m. at Soo Hill.

A special game also is planned at 6 p.m. Thursday at Wells featuring the Junior League All-Stars against all fathers from the Wells-Soo Hill area interested in playing. This does not include just the fathers of All-Stars players, but all fathers whose boys have participated in the program.

Next week's tournament schedule:

Monday — Braves vs. Cubs at 9; Tigers vs. Yankees at 10:30 at Wells; Packers vs. Lions at 1, Colts vs. Jets at 2:30 at Soo Hill.

Tuesday — Cards vs. Mets at 9 at Soo Hill.

Despite Boos, McLain Hurls Six-Hit Shutout

DETROIT (AP) — "A lot of people don't care for my antics," said an upset Denny McLain, "... but I can't change the way I am."

A booted McLain had just hurled the Detroit Tigers to a 3-0 shutout Friday night over the Kansas City Royals, becoming the first American League pitcher to win 15 games. He has lost five.

The shutout gave him six for the year, which tops the league and equals McLain's best season performance of six last year.

"I'm surprised I pitched as well as I did," McLain said in the humid Tiger dressing room. "The last two days have been hectic with the All-Star game, the Lolich thing, and the flying problem. I haven't been eating or sleeping well."

Boos Greet Ace

Boos greeted the colorful Tiger rightlander when the team took the field for the first time. And despite his six-hit shutout the boos, mixed with cheers, lingered through the game, apparently as a result of his recent dispute with fellow pitcher Mickey Lolich.

The tiff, played up in local papers, concerned McLain's failure to fly Lolich and his wife back to Detroit after Wednesday's All-Star game in Washington. But both players say that is now forgotten.

"These papers the last few days have looked like personal vendettas against myself," he said angrily, referring also to stories of his being grounded from flying his private plane during game days.

That decision came Thursday after McLain met with General Manager Jim Campbell and Manager Mayo Smith.

Gave Game Color

"For six years I've been considered good for baseball because I give some color to the game," he said, somewhat bitterly. "Now suddenly they want me to shut up. I'm not that kind of guy."

"A lot of people don't care for my antics—if you can call flying a plane at 600 miles-an-hour 'antics.' But I can't change the way I am."

McLain said the boos didn't upset his pitching, "because I'm a professional." But he added, "It bothers my wife. It bothers her deeply and it bothers people who are close to me."

Despite a 31-6 record last year, when he accepted his World Series ring in a pregame ceremony on opening day he was booed heavily.

"I can't do anything right in this town," he said. "I could win 90 games and I'd get booed."

Tresh Injured

Detroit scored its first run off starter Roger Nelson, now 6-9, on a single by Tom Tresh, a single by Jim Northrup, who was four-for-four, and a sacrifice fly by Al Kaline. Tresh pulled a hamstring muscle on Northrup's hit and was replaced by Mickey Stanley.

In the seventh the Tigers picked up their other two runs off reliever Dick Drago. Ike Brown opened with a single and took second on McLain's bunt.

Stanley singled him home and took second on the throw to the infield. He stole third and scored when third baseman Paul Schaal missed catcher Buck Martinez's attempted pick-off throw.

Kearly, 37, a native of Alpena, received his bachelors degree in health and physical education from Michigan State University in 1958 and his M.A. in physical education and school administration from the same institution in 1959. While at Michigan State, he played both football and baseball.

Kearly was head football and track coach at Woodland High School from 1958-1961 before moving on to the post of athletic director, football and track coach at Cheboygan High School. In 1966, Kearly accepted a position at Winona State College where he was a physical education instructor and assistant football coach. A year later he accepted a similar post at Michigan Tech.

Kearly has stated that he will retain the current football staff and seek his own replacement. The current staff members are Verdie Cox, Dick El-Rite and Doug Graber.

McAuliffe Will Have Surgery

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tiger infielder Dick McAuliffe will undergo surgery on his right knee Monday and probably will be lost to the team for the rest of the season, the Tiger front office said Friday.

McAuliffe, 29, fourth leading hitter among the Tigers with a .262 average in 74 games, had made only one appearance since July 10 when he was sidelined with torn cartilage in the knee.

Tiger spokesmen said McAuliffe had been placed on the indefinitely disabled list. They said indications were he would be at Ford Hospital a week and then would have a long recuperative period at home.

McAuliffe, who came up with a sore knee in early July, said he could not recall any particular play in which he injured it. He played his last few games with king-sized bandages on his knee.

Annual Slow Pitch Tourney Slated

The first annual Upper Peninsula Slow Pitch softball tournament will be held in Iron Mountain at the North Side Field on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 16 and 17.

The tournament is a Michigan Amateur Softball Association event and all teams must be registered with their local softball commissioners.

All teams wishing to enter the tourney are asked to send an entry fee of $25 and a roster to Richard Brown, 833 Woodward Ave., Kingsford, by Wednesday, Aug. 6. The roster is limited to 15 players. All softball teams are eligible to participate.

The winner of this tournament will advance to the state finals at Scottsville on Labor Day weekend.

Jackson Hits 38th Homer

Reggie Jackson says he can't hit Darold Knowles' pitching, but with the kind of year Reggie is having, anything is possible.

Jackson blasted his 38th homer of the season off the Washington Senators' reliever Friday night in the seventh inning with one on, giving the Oakland A's a 4-3 victory.

"He's a tough pitcher," Jackson said of Knowles. "I don't ever remember getting a hit off him before."

Jackson is now 21 games ahead of Babe Ruth's 60-homer pace in 1927 and one game ahead of Roger Maris' 61-homer pace in 1961.

Manager Ted Williams of Washington took the blame for bringing in Knowles to pitch to Jackson.

Williams said starter Barry Moore was bothered by a sore shoulder.

McNally Wins Again

An error gave Jackson his crack at Knowles in the seventh. Moore got the first two outs and then Joe Rudi was safe on an error by Washington shortstop Eddie Brinkman.

Dave McNally and Andy Messersmith, who lead more subdued private lives, continued their steady winning performances.

McNally, with relief help, ran his record to 14-0 as Baltimore beat the Chicago White Sox 4-2 and Messersmith pitched a two-hitter in California's 6-0 triumph over the New York Yankees.

In other games, Minnesota won 4-2 over the Oakland Athletics and Boston trimmed the Red Sox 7-6.

McNally won two victories of the single season mark of 16 consecutive victories and one shy of the two-season record of 17 in a row—he won his last two games in 1968—had a five-hit shutout in the eighth inning. But the White Sox rallied for two runs and it took three relievers to end the threat with the bases loaded.

Frank Robinson's three-run homer, his 23rd, in the first and Boog Powell's solo shot, his 26th, in the sixth put Baltimore ahead 4-0.

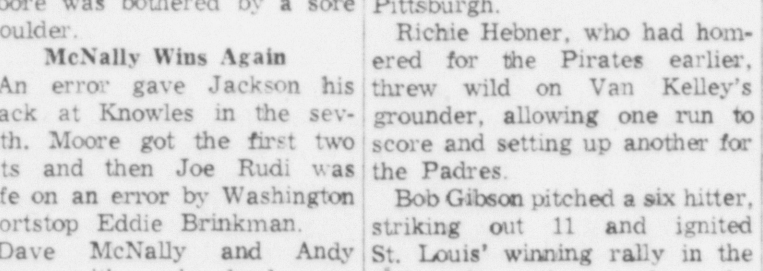

Yields Two Doubles

Messersmith, 9-7, won his ninth game in his last 11 decisions, giving only a first inning double to Jerry Kenny and a double to Jake Gibbs in the eighth. He had only a 1-0 lead against Fritz Peterson, 10-12, until the Angels exploded for five runs in the eighth against Lindy McDaniel.

Rod Carew's bloop double with two out in the 16th against Mike Paul, 2-8, gave Minnesota its victory.

Duke Sims had tied the game for Cleveland with a two-run homer with one out in the ninth, but Ron Perranoski, 6-5, blanked the Indians on one hit the last 5 2-3 innings.

Russ Gibson's pinch-hit, three-run homer in the eighth inning overcame a 5-4 deficit for Boston after Greg Goossen had put Seattle ahead with his first homer in the seventh.

School Finishes Unique Program

The Washington School, under Section 3 of the State School aid act, has just completed a three-week in-service training session which involved four teachers and 30 students. The teachers and students experimented with new educational methods of group planning, seeing and doing experiences, and novel ideas in classroom learning. The program was built around the historical and natural elements of Delta County and surrounding areas. Consultants were used to lead and instruct the teachers.

Charles Folio provided the group with a history of Delta County, which was followed by a tour of the Delta County Historical Museum where Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder explained the various displays and their relationship to local history. Other field trips included Fayette State Park, Iron Mountain iron mine, House of Yesterday Museum and to the home of Mrs. William Taylor for a study of birds. Many of the places were filmed and these films will be filed for future classroom use.

Milliken Opposed To IRS Location

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. William Milliken Friday opposed the federal government's decision to locate an Internal Revenue Service data processing center in suburban Oak Park rather than downtown Detroit.

"I am distressed to learn that the federal government is planning to transfer its IRS data center from Detroit to one of the surrounding suburbs," the Republican governor said in a telegram to vice President Spiro Agnew. "I strongly urge that the federal government retain the center's operation within Detroit."

Government officials also confirmed Friday that the new site will cost three times as much as the present rented facilities in Detroit. The new 5-year lease slated to begin in September 1970, will cost $930,000 a year, compared with the $308,600 being paid for the present offices.

FBI Investigates Escape Attempt

DETROIT (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation is conducting an "intensive investigation" into the attempted escape of four prisoners from the basement garage of the Federal Building in Detroit.

Three were recaptured but one prisoner remained at large. Their breakout caused U.S. Marshals to open fire on a crowded downtown street. Four passersby and at least one of the prisoners were wounded.

One prisoner, Clifford Jesse Jackson, 23, was still at large. He had been sentenced just the day before to 12 years in prison for bank robbery. Authorities believe he may have been wounded in the gunfire.

The prisoners broke from a U.S. marshal's van in the basement garage. They reportedly had been handcuffed and somehow freed themselves.

Curtis

James Lowery and friends of Belding spent a few days here. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Champagne and sons of Ypsilanti visited at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Humphrey, Sr. for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Moore and child of Flint are spending some time at the Moore cabin on Big Manistique Lake. Mrs. Delores Fritcher and family have returned to their home at Flint after staying a few weeks at their home on Bib Manistique Lake.

George Quick of Detroit spent a week here at the home of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Quick.

Mr. and Mrs. Red Nickerson of Dewitt spent the weekend at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Anderson of Edmore, who are spending a few days at Curtis, visited Mrs. Lottie Lowry.

Mrs. Hazel Allen returned from St. Luke's Hospital at Marquette, where she was a surgical patient.

Saugatuck Wins Air Force Fight

SAUGATUCK (AP) — The village of Saugatuck has emerged victorious over the U.S. Air Force in a running battle that reached the Pentagon.

An Air Force radar dome atop Mount Bald Head across Kalamazoo Lake from the small resort community was the objective.

Early this year, the Defense Department declared the installation surplus. The village bought it for $250, since it had become a landmark for tourists and visitors who tested their endurance by climbing the 271 steps up to the top.

One morning last week, village Mayor Lynn McCray saw the dome disappear under a black canvas. He investigated and learned an Air Force crew had orders to dismantle and ship it to California.

Attorney General Claims Sen. Kuhn Is Uninformed

LANSING (AP) — Insisting a critic's comments were "uninformed" and "reckless," Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley says he will prosecute all cases stemming from indictments handed down by former one-man grand jurors in Wayne and Oakland counties.

Sen. George Kuhn, R-Brimingham, has written Kelley two letters, demanding he make public the status of cases involving the Pratt, Thorburn, Piggins and Bowles grand jurors.

"I think that many children will appreciate what this new program is doing, because you may come to school in the morning and may never even see a Kodak M20 instant movie camera and leave at 12 noon and know how to work with it better than your teacher."

"You go places your parents, grandparents, and great grandparents have never even seen or rode past."

"I think this program should be continued as a summertime project all summer two days a week and that all the children could take part in coming to this new program."

"I think that I was very lucky to be chosen for this new program to know about things, to learn about things, to write about things and to go to interesting places."

Sen. Levin Attacks Milliken's Production

LANSING (AP) — Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin Friday accused Gov. William Milliken of "proposing little and producing less" during the recent session of the Michigan Legislature.

"Little more can be expected from the fall session unless Gov. Milliken devotes his efforts to narrowing the gap between proposals and production," said Levin, a Berkeley Democrat who has been mentioned as a possible contender for Milliken's job next year.

The governor has said he was "highly pleased" with the first half of his administration. "All major legislative goals have been achieved," the governor said, "including enactment of a balanced budget without new taxes."

"What he's said," Levin replied, "is that where something succeeded, it was his objective and where it failed, it wasn't our objective in the first place."

Threw In Towel

"When Gov. Milliken did forsake his usual approach, he showed a governor can play a part in producing significant legislation," Levin added, citing the $335 million antipollution bond program.

"He initiated legislation, took a public position and made a distinct effort to negotiate with party leaders to ensure passage of his proposal," Levin said. "The result was one of the major pieces of legislation produced this spring."

But, Levin added, the governor initiated legislation dealing with the highly controversial division of $100 million in recreation bond funds approved by voters last November, then "threw in the towel while the bills have not passed either house."

"The Legislature took up where the governor left off, conducted its own bipartisan negotiations without him, and again, a major piece of legislation was produced," Levin said.

Minimum Wage

He cited minimum wage and unemployment compensation bills as an example of "the governor's failure to help in implementing a specific piece of legislation to which he had agreed."

Milliken met with bipartisan leaders from both houses earlier this month, after minimum wage and compensation bills had passed the Senate, Levin reported.

"At that meeting he concurred in substitute bills in both areas which included only modest economic increases," he said.

"However, in one of those absences of legislative follow-through by the governor so characteristic of this session, both substitute bills failed to attract even minimum Republican support in the House and were defeated."

Levin cited law enforcement measures, grand jury reform and liberalized abortion law proposals as further examples of measures he said the governor had supported publicly but failed to push in the Legislature.

A governor has an obligation to propose specific legislation and to push those proposals, Levin said, by fostering discussion within the Legislature.

Sign Contract At Traverse City

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — A contract for the 1969-70 school year was signed today by officials of the Traverse City School Board and Traverse City Education Association.

The signing came after school board President Robert Dean Jr. had delayed the action to protest remarks the teaching group made charging the board with failing to keep its word.

Dean said the new contract calls for salary increase of about eight per cent.

FRANCO SUCCESSOR — Successor to Generalissimo Francisco Franco, ruler of Spain, will be 31-year-old Prince Juan Carlos of Bourbon, grandson of Spain's last king. The prince has been groomed in Spanish statecraft to take office on the death of retirement of the Spanish dictator.

Slaughter Hogs With Cholera

JONES (AP) — More than 500 hogs — more victims of the dreaded hog cholera — were to be killed today as the State Agriculture Department fought the spread of the disease in Michigan.

The outbreak of Cholera, the second in recent weeks, was discovered late Friday on a farm within two miles of the James Renfrow farm, where more than 1,700 swine were slaughtered earlier this month.

Department officials said the farmers who owned the two swine herds had apparently exchanged equipment and men to help in each other's work before the highly contagious disease first was diagnosed at the Renfrow farm.

Officials added that veterinarians had been keeping a close check on the nearby farms, fearing a spread of the disease.

Michigan has been certified hog cholera free by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The disease moved into the state, however, in hogs imported from Missouri.

Those animals had been certified disease-free but officials speculated the disease had been incubated at the time of certification.

Bears Get Bolder In Upper Peninsula

MARQUETTE — A woman living alone in a house trailer north of here was literally driven out of her home the other night by a black bear that actually broke into the trailer.

Earlier this summer, a large bear almost tore off the entry to a storm shed while trying to get into a house in Houghton County.

And in Stambaugh, state and city officials were forced to shoot an adult bear that had wandered into the center of town.

It looks as though bears are going to make as big a nuisance of themselves in the Upper Peninsula this summer as they did last year when the Department of Natural Resources received a record number of complaints about bear activities.

Dorcas J. Curry of Marquette, regional manager of the DNR, was asked to appraise the situation. He said he is convinced the problem results from an over-population of bears and favors action to reduce their number.

Fears Tragedy

Curry fears the Upper Peninsula may be the scene of another tragedy like the Pomrancky case if something isn't done to stem the bear population. In July 1948, little Carol Ann Pomrancky was dragged off and killed by a bear while she was playing in the yard of her home in rural Chippewa County.

"This could happen again tomorrow in any one of a score of places in the Upper Peninsula," Curry said.

He believes a large part of the problem arises from what he calls tramp bears that have lost their fear of humans.

He deplores the practice of operators of some supper clubs, restaurants and bars on the outskirts of towns who put out food to attract bears—in turn to attract customers.

Food From Humans

"In some places they even have floodlights at night so that customers may better watch the bears," Curry says.

He puts bears that frequent garbage dumps in the same category with other tramp bears that seek out meals from humans.

"It is conceivable that there are many bears in the Upper Peninsula that never have learned to fend for themselves," Curry states. "These would be bears that started going to places of human habitation to feed with their mothers when they were cubs."

The state often livetraps nuisance bears and transports them many miles before releasing them in remote areas. But Curry doesn't believe this is the solution to the problem.

More Hunting Urged

"Live trapping," he says, "is an exercise in futility. We have records of livetrapped bears returning 150 miles from the point of release to where they were trapped in the first place."

Instead, Curry believes hunting seasons should be liberalized.

"I'd like to encourage more bear hunting," he says. "I think maybe the way to do it is to have a spring season, as Ontario does."

Michigan at one time did permit spring bear hunting, but it was discontinued several years ago. "Now," Curry says, "there are hundreds of Michigan hunters who go to Ontario to hunt bear in the spring."

He believes a spring bear season would not only help tourism in Michigan by keeping many of the spring bear hunters in the state but, more importantly, would help cut down the bear population that he believes has become dangerously high in the Northern Peninsula.

Pope Notified Of Nations Plans On Birth Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration gave Pope Paul VI advance notice of its decision to step up sharply the nation's birth control programs, according to Sen. Hugh Scott, assistant Senate Republican leader.

"I can assure you they told the Pope before they did it," Scott told a meeting of summer congressional interns Thursday.

"They didn't get the Pope's approval," the Pennsylvania senator added, but just informed him a plan was forthcoming to make more birth control services available to more women.

It was merely a matter of courtesy, Scott said.

The pontiff has repeated the traditional Roman Catholic church stand against the use of artificial means of contraception.

President Nixon's message to Congress last Friday included an assurance that federal birth control programs would not be "allowed to infringe upon the religious convictions or personal wishes and freedom of any individual."

He called for the creation of a commission to study the implications of continued rapid population growth in the United States. Nixon also urged increased federal support for existing population control programs at an expense administration officials said would reach $150 million yearly.

FOILED BY FALL

VIENNA (AP)—Police who at first believed that a 56-year-old woman secretary who in the middle of night fell to her death from the second story window of a lawyer's office was a burglar, said later it was more likely the woman wanted to get a look at her husband's divorce papers which were filed with the law firm.

The woman was dressed in blue overalls, and had burglar tools and a flashlight when she apparently lost her footing on a rope ladder and fell through a glass roof into a restaurant kitchen.

DEPARTMENT OF Natural Resources workers Graham McNamee, left, and Herb Cornell, right, are shown electroshocking fish while conducting a survey of Hunters Brook in northern Delta County. The shocking device does not harm the fish, but it stuns them momentarily so that they can be studied as to type, numbers, health and size. Rubber waders insulate the two men from receiving the shock themselves. Once the fish recover from the shock, they are placed back in the water.

Peeping Toms Invade Colony

KISSIMMEE, Fla. (AP) — Some 250 nudists from across the East stripped down for a convention under the hot July sun and ran into a familiar problem—three peeping toms in underpants.

"That was the giveaway. Everybody else was naked," said Jim Hadley, manager of the Cypress Cove nudist resort.

Hadley and his big German shepherd dog convinced the teen-aged boys, who waded around the end of an eight-foot fence to join lake swimmers, to stand still Thursday until a deputy sheriff arrived.

Then conveners of the American Sunbathing Association's eastern division, representing 36 camps, got back to business under the sun in preparation for the national meeting next month at Granger, Ind.

Selection of a nudist king and queen will dominate interest on Sunday, final day of the convention.

"That's the main attraction. It's more or less based on beauty and popularity," Hadley said.

Contestants wearing nary a fig leaf will walk the length of a platform. Other nudists in the audience will make known their favorites by applauding.

"Usually," Hadley explained, "the most attractive woman gets the most applause."

Playing within a seven-acre compound almost surrounded by a high, sheet metal fence, the tanned sun worshippers also plan to compete in tennis, volleyball, shuffleboard, ping pong and billiards.

A nudist for 20 years, Hadley said he has watched the average age of nudists grow younger and the pastime gain popularity with families. He said they come from all walks of life.

VOCABULARY SWITCH

DELAND, Fla. (AP)—Young people have their own new vocabulary for describing hope-ful and hopeless living, says Paul Geren, president of Baptist-owned Stetson University, but they don't like the older generation's terms for it, such as "lost" and "saved."

Trout Are Returning To Hunters Brook

By BOB GREGG

I spent a recent afternoon tagging along with two dedicated Department of Natural Resources workers while they conducted a fish survey of Hunters Brook in northern Delta County.

The workers, Graham McNamee and Herb Cornell, showed me the countless ways in which Hunters Brook has been improved both for the fishermen and the fish.

I saw where beaver dams were cut and cleared giving a general improvement to the stream. Enough logs and brush were left in the brook so that the fish could have some cover, but the stream flowed fast and freely without any jam causing warm backwaters that might kill trout.

"Before we cut out the many beaver dams, the July stream temperature used to reach 70 degrees," McNamee said. "For the past two or three years the July average has been lowered to 64 degrees," he noted. Trout need fast, cool water in order to survive.

Easy To Fish

McNamee said that this stream improvement not only gives the trout a better habitat and chance for survival but also makes it easier for the angler to fish the brook. "Before the improvement work, an angler used to have to chop his way down Hunters Brook with a machete. But now the stream is easy to wade, and the fishing is excellent," McNamee added.

Dave Johnson, DNR biologist who heads the work being done on Hunters Brook, said that the Department is by no means finished clearing the stream. "There are still some old beaver dams up around Watson that have to be cut out before the entire Hunters Brook system harbors good populations of trout," Johnson stated.

Johnson said that there are good populations of brook, brown, and rainbow trout near County Rd. 523 north of Cornell and once again where the stream crosses an old railroad bridge north of Watson.

Spawning Area

"We are trying to establish Hunters Brook as a good spawning area for all species of trout," Johnson explained. "We've been working on the stream's habitat since the brook's potential was first noticed in a 1965 survey," he said.

Johnson said that the improvement work on Hunters Brook has helped establish a fish population that didn't exist prior to stream repair.

Johnson said the brook was stocked with 7,000 brook trout yearlings in 1967 in an effort to re-establish a long-lost resident fishery in the stream itself.

"The following year we planted 1,500 browns and 1,500 rainbows. We hope that Hunters Brook will act as a nursery area for these trout until they are big enough to move down to the Escanaba River," Johnson explained. By stocking these browns and rainbows in Hunter's Brook, Johnson says he hopes the fish can avoid the predation they would have to face if they were planted directly into the Escanaba itself.

1969 Plant

So far this year, the DNR has dumped 2,500 brooks and 2,500 rainbows into Hunters Brook in an effort to help both the resident population and to establish more of a nursery stock.

Stream surveys that have been run recently have shown the trout population of Hunters Brook to be increasing in leaps and bounds. "We're getting trout where before we got nothing but suckers and minnows," McNamee said.

"Up til now the Escanaba River has had little or possibly no natural reproduction capabilities. Hunters Brook has great possibilities as a spawning area. So by establishing a large population of trout in the brook, we hope to get some recruitment for the Escanaba. Especially from the rainbows and browns," Johnson said.

While conducting the survey, which was done with an electric fish-shocking device, I saw some of the excellent results of this special DNR program. Under almost every log jam there were some nice-sized trout in the 10-18 inch class. The stream is loaded with nice fish. The brook still isn't very accessible, but I plan to fish it very soon.

Cinnamon was used in medicines, perfumes, and ointments in western Europe long before its flavor was fully appreciated.

Wheat Prices At 20-Year Low

LANSING (AP) — Michigan farmers are harvesting their wheat crop as prices approach the lowest ebb in more than 20 years, reports the president of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Elton R. Smith, also a Kent County farmer, places the blame on faulty national farm policy.

Smith said the Michigan Elevator Exchange reports the harvest cash price for soft white wheat now is at $1.12 a bushel and may fall to $1.05 a bushel.

Only a few years ago, in 1966, it was $1.60 a bushel, he said.

"Congress is directly responsible through domestic and international legislation which has caused this downward spiral in wheat prices," Smith said.

Production is still too large despite reductions of wheat acreage, Smith said. In addition, he said, other countries have failed to live up to prices set for wheat by the International Grains Arrangement.

"American wheat producers have been suckers in this international deal as other participating countries have been grabbing more and more of the export market with price cutting sales," he said.

France, for one, he charged, has been underselling the minimum sale agreement.

"The solution is to return to the market system," Smith said. "We propose to phase out acreage allotments, wheat certificates, annual diversion programs and direct payments over a five-year period."

MEETING NOTICE

A joint meeting of the Marquette-Alger Intermediate School District and the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District will be held at 7:30 p.m., on Tuesday, July 29, 1969 in the multi purpose room of the James T. Jones Elementary School in Gladstone, Michigan.

The purpose of the meeting is to act upon a request by the Escanaba Area Board of Education to transfer from the Flat Rock Public School District to the Escanaba Area School District that portion of the property known as the "Lake Bluff Estates" which now lies in Escanaba Township. The property is a portion of each of Sections 29, 30, 31, and 32, Township 40 North, Range 22 West, and contains approximately 1,020 acres.

An opportunity will be given at the meeting for all persons to be heard.

W. J. McClintock, Secretary

DELTA-SCHOOLCRAFT INTERMEDIATE BOARD OF EDUCATION
